Fuel Cells May Delay Apollo Blastoff

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Contaminated liquid oxygen was discovered today in the power-producing fuel cells of the Apollo 8 spaceship, threatening a possible delay of Saturday's planned blastoff of three astronauts on a mission to orbit the moon.

The launch team began draining the 640 pounds of liquid oxygen from the three cells, hoping to replace it by late today.

"The launch team still is aiming for a launching at 7:51 a.m. EST Saturday," the space agency said. "Work in the next few hours will determine if this can be done."

Officials hoped the replacement could be accomplished during a planned six-hour hold in the countdown which is to start at 3:51 p.m. The automatic hold was built into the countdown to handle such contingencies.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the contamination was caused by an excess amount of liquid nitrogen in the oxygen supply. The nitrogen is used to cool and condition oxygen before it is blended with liquid hydrogen in the fuel cells.

There was no report on how the excess nitrogen got into the system.

"This contamination does no damage to the fuel cells," a spokesman said. "But if launched in this condition, the astronauts would have to purge their fuel cells more often in flight—about once every hour instead of every seven hours as planned."

The liquid oxygen, at 297 degrees below zero, and liquid hydrogen, at 423 degrees below, were pumped into the three fuel cells Thursday. They combine during the flight to produce electricity to run the spacecraft systems and a byproduct of water for astronaut drinking.

The history-making mission, set for Saturday morning, is fraught with perils never before faced, but hopes were high that the astronauts would carry out their mission to orbit the moon and get back safely to earth.

"The mission is justifiable and it is right, from a technical point of view," said Dr. Kurt Debus, director of the Kennedy Space Center. "The moon is an old target of man's dreams. Now it is a tangible target.

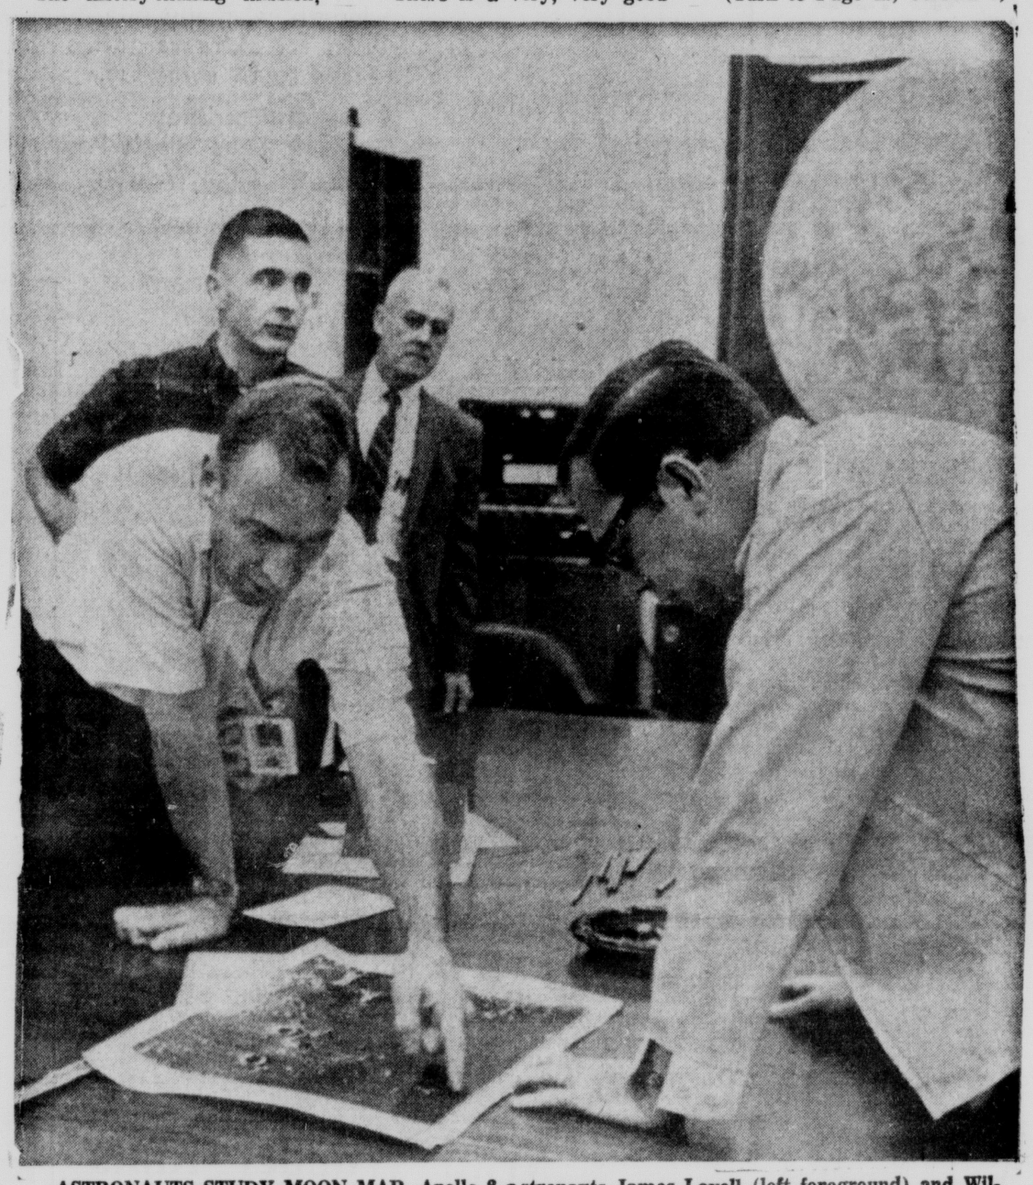

"There is a very, very good chance of a successful mission. Going to the moon means opening a vast new frontier. It is an exciting and rewarding thing to contemplate."

As their date with destiny drew near, the astronauts—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders—were cool and confident.

"We're ready as can be," one of them reported cheerfully as hundrds of crewmen preparing the Saturn 5, the world's mightiest rocket, moved at 8:51 p.m. into the final countdown, an ex-

Newspaperboys Get Gift

The annual Christmas present from The Review to the 185 newspaperboys who deliver in the tri-state area will be given Saturday when the youths will receive their allotment of papers free.

The newspaperboys will keep the entire 7½ cents they collect from each paper. It is The Review's way of expressing appreciation for the job the youths do throughout the year in seeing that your paper is delivered daily.

The staff hopes you will join in helping to make this a merry Christmas for the newspaperboys by answering the door when they knock tomorrow.

Shriver To Remain At Post In Paris; Both Democrats

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon today named career diplomat Charles W. Yost to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and announced that Sargent Shriver, who had been considered for the job, will remain ambassador to France during the new administration. Both men are Democrats.

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon has assigned each of his Cabinet nominees a mimeographed booklet of homework, stressing safeguards against any conflicts of interest, and preparing for January's Senate confirmation hearings.

Nixon was due today to name the last of his Cabinet-level selections, an ambassador to the United Nations. The job is reserved for a Democrat. Sargent Shriver, now U.S. ambassador to France, has been the major object of speculation.

Before he named his all-Republican Cabinet, Nixon disclosed he would choose a Democrat for the U.N. post—which he once offered to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his defeated presidential rival. Humphrey declined.

Pueblo Crew To Be Freed Shortly, U.S. Official Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Korea is preparing to release the 82 surviving crewmen of the captured U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo in the near future, perhaps by Christmas, according to a high government source.

The source, who could not be identified, said he could not disclose any details, except to say that the North Koreans agreed to release the prisoners following a total of 7½ hours of meetings with American officials Tuesday and Thursday at Panmunjom, site of the Korean armistice talks.

Defense Department officials termed the Thursday meeting at Panmunjom "constructive," but with "no decisions made," although developments were expected "very shortly."

The State Department Thursday had declined to express any thoughts of the release reports. "I will not express an opinion one way or an other, and I hope you will bear with us," State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said. He did not deny the reports.

Reports had circuated in recent day of the possibe release of the officers and crewmen of the ship, captured last Jan. 23 off the coast of North Korea.

And from South Korea came word Thursday that a high government source said he believed the Pueblo crew would be released in two or three days.

The South Korean source indicated the only thing standing in the way of the release were some procedural matters, such as when, where and how the men were to be freed.

Some sources in the United States said Thursday that relatives of the Pueblo crew had been notified to stand by for an impending announcement concerning the 82 men.

However, late Thursday night, almost all relatives reached by the Associated Press said they had not been contacted by the government.

Mrs. Lloyd Bucher, whose husband commanded the Pueblo told the AP Thursday she had received no confirmation of the reports from official or any other sources.

$1,100 Reported In Fund To Aid Ailing McCraw Boy

By ROBERT POPP

The tri-state district, moved by a strange chemistry compounded of large doses of love, concern and the Christmas spirit, has poured out $1,100 to date to help the 36-pound East End youngster who is battling for his life against an incurable disease at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Contributions have continued to increase, both in size and number, as the anniversary of the Birth of Christ nears. Every mail delivery to The Review brings a veritable flood of Christmas cards with currency or checks enclosed.

Smoleski's Election Stands Up In Recount

Louis Smoleski's election as sheriff of Hancock County in the November general election held up following completion of the recount Thursday night.

Smoleski, a Democrat, officially was certified as the victor over Ralph Patrick, his Republican opponent, by 27 votes.

The final tally was announced as Smoleski 9,228 and Patrick 9,201. Both men are from Weirton.

Winter Will Make Its Bow On Saturday

The sun will make winter official Saturday as it reaches its farthest position south of the celestial equator.

At exactly 2 p.m., the winter season will begin astronomically — the moment when the winter solstice brings the year's shortest day and longest night.

The forecast calls for partial clearing and colder tonight, with lows in the lower to middle 20s. Saturday will be fair with little change in temperature.

Temperatures through Wednesday are expected to average below normal, with highs 30-35 and night-time lows 20-25. It will be warmer over the weekend, then colder through the middle of next week.

Judge In Jefferson Rejects Report From Grand Jury

STEUBENVILLE — Common Pleas Judge Arthur L. Hooper this morning refused to accept the report submitted by the Jefferson County Grand Jury after 14-day investigation into alleged irregularities in Sheriff Richard P. Wells department after reviewing the Grand Jury reports which were submitted at 11:32 a. m.

Judge Hooper told the jurors that he would not accept the report as formulated. He told them to return to the jury room and confine their report to indictments, cases continued or ignored.

He said they could make "normal" statements, but not in the manner stated in the report.

He said the grand jury as an investigative body has authority to do certain things, but has no authority to do other things.

He added that it was not within the province of the Grand Jury to state matters which were contained in the report.

The panel returned to the jury room at 11:40 a. m. to confer with Prosecutor Dominick E. Olivito. There was no indication when they would try again to report teir findings. The first report appeared to be four or five typewritten pages.

The recalled panel had heard some 65 witnesses in connection with charges made by Sheriff Wells' brother-in-law, Kenneth Swiger, 41, of Toronto that protection was provided by the department for a house of prostitution near the Waterford Bar at Yellow Creek.

Mishandling of department funds was also claimed by Swiger, a former special deputy who was released about a month ago.

Sheriff Wells has denied the charges, citing Swiger's accusations as a "family matter."

Enemy Moves On Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. intelligence officers reported today that the Communist command has launched the first phase of a winter-spring campaign and is moving troops and war materials into position for an assault on Saigon. They expect the attack after New Year's.

The intelligence reports prompted the United States to warn the North Vietnamese in Paris that an attack on Saigon would jeopardize the peace talks.

The Viet Cong meanwhile observed the eighth anniversary today of the founding of its National Liberation Front with three grenade attacks and a shooting in Saigon. Seven Vietnamese civilians were killed and 11 were wounded. One grenade hit a U.S. Army jeep but bounced off and exploded in a group of Vietnamese, killing two and wounding six.

All the terrorists escaped.

American intelligence officers, explaining the three-week lull in sustained major ground fighting, said the Communist command is trying to avoid contact and is moving troops in squad-sized units of about 10 men to get them in desired positions.

The major movement was detected from the Cambodian border toward Saigon, they said.

Intelligence reports say that four North Vietnamese divisions previously strung along the Cambodian Border north of Saigon have drawn in closer to the capital.

One highly placed officer said the Communist command has 65 main force North Vietnamese

Vance Flies Home Today For Talks With Leaders

PARIS (AP) — U.S. negotiator Cyrus R. Vance flies home Saturday for consultations with U.S. leaders amid dwindling prospects for an opening of the Vietnam peace conference before the end of this year.

Aides declined to say whether Vance would see either President Johnson or President-elect Nixon, but it was believed likely he would confer with both before returning to Paris about Dec. 27.

Vance, a Johnson appointee, has agreed to stay on a month beyond Nixon's inauguration Jan. 20 to help pass the negotiating baton to the man Nixon chooses to replace W. Averell Harriman as the chief U.S. negotiator.

U.S. efforts to start the peace parley envisioned under Johnson's Oct. 31 bomb-halt package have run into rough going ever since he announced it.

Vance and North Vietnam's Col. Ha Van Lau stuck to their past proposals for the shape of the conference table and other symbols reflecting the argument over status for the NLF.

Until they reach agreement on procedures, the talks cannot begin.

But it was a warning by Vance against a Communist attack on Saigon that generated the most heat in conflicting versions of the secret session issued by the two sides afterward.

A North Vietnamese communique said Vance said if Saigon is hit "it would be impossible to carry on serious talks and to continue the halt in bombing of North Vietnam." Lau replied that all Vietnamese have a right to oppose U.S. "aggression" as long as it continues, the communique said.

A U.S. delegation official denied Vance had threatened a resumption of U.S. bombing of the North should Saigon be attacked. He said Vance told the Hanoi envoy of U.S. intelligence reports of three to four North Vietnamese divisions along the Cambodian border preparing for an assault on Saigon.

Vance strongly reminded Lau of Johnson's bomb-halt proviso that peace talks would be jeopardized by shelling of South Vietnamese cities and abuse of the demilitarized zone between the two Vietnams, the official said.

A similar U.S. account came from Washington, where a State Department spokesman said "serious consequences" would stem from new Communist attacks on South Vietnamese cities.

The South Vietnamese delegation, which has been urging a firm posture by U.S. negotiators, issued a statement approving Vance's stand.

The National Liberation Front, who the Communists contend represents the South Vietnamese people and whom the allies regard as insurgents, whooped it up for their eighth anniversary today with condemnation of the United States and the Saigon government alike.

"The imperialist Americans" are "extremely obstinate, cruel and perfidious by nature," said an NLF statement distributed in advance of an anniversary celebration at a Paris hotel.

As for the "puppets" in Saigon, the Viet Cong group proposed supplanting them with a "peace cabinet" that would negotiate with the NLF to form a coalition government.

The status of the NLF is the basic issue holding up the expanded peace talks, and a fifth private U.S.-North Vietnamese meeting on conference ground rules Thursday broke up with neither side giving way.

campaign to free the captured men, said that "this is not the first time such rumors have been published and I won't believe them until Pete (her husband) walks in the door."

Strict silence was imposed on all U.S. officials dealing with the Pueblo case, lest any statement create a last-minute hitch in the negotiations.

There has been no mention of the release of the ship with its elaborate multimillion dollar electronic listening devices.

North Korea had demanded in exchange for the release of the Pueblo crew an admission and apology by th United States that the Pueblo intruded into North Korean waters, and an assurance that there would be no further "spy" activities off the North Korean coast.

The United States denied that the Pueblo was ordered to intruded inside the 12-mile limit set by North Korea. But Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other officials have said that after the men are released and if an impartial third party finds the United States acted improperly, appropriate action would be taken.

The Pueblo was captured Jan. 23 under unclear circumstances.

Disputes over the location of the ship were the major point of disagreement between the United States and North Korea.

The United States which officially recognizes a three-mile offshore limit to a nation's sea boundary, said that the Pueblo had never even gone that close to shore in its mission of surveillance.

American officials denied that the ship even entered the 12-mile offshore limit proclaimed by North Korea as its sea boundary.

However, the North Koreans claimed proof that the boat not only entered the 12-mile limit, but was captured within that boundary.

Kroger Loses Court Battle Over 'Games'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Franklin County Court of Appeals has ruled against the Kroger Co. in the grocery chain's legal battle with state liquor officials over promotional games run by Kroger.

The court upheld a ruling that the games, "Race to Riches" and "Pepsi Cola Win With Jokers" were games of chance and should not be permitted in places which hold liquor permits, even though there is no charge to persons desiring to play the games.

The case involves a suit by Kroger against State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook. The company argued the games were not in violation of state liquor laws, as Cook charged.

4% Increase In Prices Set By U.S. Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S Steel Corp., which usually sets the nation's steel price trends, says it will hike the cost of the industry's basic product early next month.

The 4 per cent increase, which will boost the price of semifinished carbon steel $5 a ton and semiffinished alloy steel $7 a ton, is the largest in a series of adjustments in the industry.

In addition to semifinished steel, the giant producer said Wednesday it's raising the price of steel pilings $7 a ton.

Semifinished steel is sold to mills in rough forms called billets, blooms and slabs. The mills then roll these into virtually all steel products, rods, wires, sheets and strips.

U.S. Steel said the increase affects products that account for 4 per cent of total industry shipments, making them one of the biggest tonnage items.

It said te price hikes are inteded to raise the company's revenues less than one-tenth of one per cent. The new prices, it said, will go into effect Jan. 2, 1969.

It was unknown how the rest of the industry would react to the move. Steel prices have been fluctuating since Bethlehem Steel, the nation's second largest producer, rocked the industry earlier this year with a 22 per cent cut on the price of hot rolled carbon sheet, mostly used for autos and construction.

U.S. Steel and most of the industry followed. But then U.S. Steel said it was restoring hot rolled sheets to the former price of $125 a ton. Bethlehem said it would go up on the price, but only o $118 at on.

As other producers followed, U.S. Steel made an about face and said it wouldn't put its higher price into effect. The company said it wanted to wait for "further clarification of the competitive situation."

Vanatta Murder Conviction Is Upheld By Court

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The 8th District Court of Appeals Thursday upheld the 1966 murder conviction of John Vanatta who was found guilty in the slaying of his former partner, jeweler Richard S. Richards.

The court had the case under consideration for 14 months before rendering its decision. A check of court records revealed that this set a record here for time taken by any three-judge panel to render a decision.

Vanatta had been charged with first-degree murder twice in the baseball-bat beating death of Richards, who had been a partner in a motel operation with Vanatta in suburban Strongsville. He was charged after the 1963 slaying, but the charges were dropped. He was recharged in 1966.

The prosecution contended that Richards was slain Oct. 5, 1963 at Vanatta's Strongsville home. The body was found in the trunk of Richards' car the next day at a bus turnaround in Berea.

Vanatta's appeal was based on claims of judicial error in the conduct of the trial. His lawyer, Jack G. Day, said the case will be appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Beaver Fills Defender Job

BEAVER — Atty. George E. James of Beaver Falls has been appointed by Beaver commissioners as the county's public defender.

The appointment was made in accordance with a new law approved earlier this month by the governor.

Commissioners James Ross and Eli Corak voted for James. George Pettibon opposed the appointment.

The salary was set at $10,000 a year. James will assume his office Jan. 1 and will be located in the old detention room next to the county jail.

James is a former assistant district attorney and a former law clerk in the Welfare Department. He is a graduate of Westminster College, a cum laude graduate of Dickinson Law School and has been practicing six years.

Closing In On The Moon

If everything goes as expected, Apollo 8 liftoff tomorrow morning will bring the United States well within sight of a space goal announced by President John F. Kennedy in 1961.

In pleading with Congress for approval of expensive programs aimed at putting a man on the moon before 1970, he said the time had come for the United States "to take a clearly leading role in space achievements, which, in many ways may hold the key to our future on earth."

President Kennedy called for America to spend whatever was necessary to reach the goal "before the decade is out, of landing a man on the moon and returning him safely to earth."

MR. KENNEDY did not live to see his proposal become embroiled in controversy over its high cost.

Spending by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in 1966 totaled $5.9 billion which ranked it temporarily with the Agriculture Department as the federal government's third largest spending entity.

Appropriations have been reduced in recent years and the total for fiscal 1969 is slightly under $4 billion.

Space program officials have been unable to convince all Americans that tremendous outlays of capital for exploration and research have priority over domestic problems.

Moreover, the financial burden of the costly Vietnam War places the matter of money in another light.

Benefits from the space program go far beyond the moon race, military objectives and increased civilian employment. New technology is applied by industry and eventually gets to the consumer in the form of new products or lower prices.

Scientific knowledge has increased. Planning and weather forecasting have been assisted by space research.

Many of the discoveries have long-range application and are not of a dramatic nature in terms of immediate gain.

Critics have seized on this point in their argument for a slower-paced space program resulting in a decrease in cost.

FEW HAVE CALLED for governmental abandonment of space exploration. That would be foolhardy. Most dissenters want a continuing space program that fits into a priority scheme with other national projects.

President-elect Nixon has said he favors a space program" supported at a level assuring efficient and steady progress." This could be the middle ground many have been looking for.

All the controversy will be laid aside tomorrow. When command pilot Col. Frank Borman and his two crewmen, Capt. James A. Lovell, Jr. and Maj. William A. Anders, blast off in the attempt to fly around the moon, they will have the good wishes and prayers of their fellow Americans.

The trip into distant space is dangerous but the courage of the trio of astronauts is equal to the momentous occasion, and reflects well upon their profession and their country.

Old Man Winter

Winter, which makes its formal arrival tomorrow afternoon at 2, always seems to sneak into the tri-state area.

Not only has its advance weather agent already chilled and taunted us with sleet and snow, the season annually takes up residence while we are busy with Christmas preparations and too filled with seasonal fellowship to resent or reject him.

As an old philosopher said on The Diamond this morning, "About all we can do is smile and say, 'Sock it to me.' "

A Message For Mr. Ky

Criticism of Saigon's conduct at the Paris negotiations by Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford has sparked unusual remark from South Vietnam's Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Boiling from Mr. Clifford's statement that both Hanoi and Saigon are to blame for stalling progress of the peace talks, Mr. Ky retorted that the U.S. defense chief has again "shown a gift for sayihg the wrong thing at the wrong time."

On the contrary, the last time Mr. Clifford said something that sounded "wrong" to Saigon it was when he suggested that the United States ignore the South Vietnamese boycott of the Paris talks and negotiate without them.

A few days later, South Vietnam announced it was sending a team of negotiators to Paris.

Mr. Clifford's blunt statements should be taken seriously in Saigon. They signal a determination in Washington that it is time for South Vietnam to wake up to some realities.

The United States government is thinking about the American servicemen that are dying every day in Vietnam; about those 30,000 that have already given their lives in the name of South Vietnamese independence and about the financial donation by a people of a giant country to a tiny one that asked help.

Mr. Clifford speaks for a lot of Americans when he demands as staunch an effort in pursuit of peace as is being given in pursuit of the war.

Mr. Ky should be made cognizant of the fact that America has a responsibility to its own people as well as those of the rest of world.

Telling It How It Wasn't

Today's college students are reputed to advocate telling it how it is. However, some hundreds of them, along with a number of their teachers, have just been victimized by a modern-day con man who didn't tell it like it was.

The attorney general of the State of New York said the students and teachers are the victims of "one of the most vicious charter flight frauds" ever reported in the state.

Capitalizing on the contemporary hedonism of a considerable segment of today's youth, the man who fleeced the students offered a "real bargain" on an inviting flight to Puerto Rico. He even gave them the number of the plane (N8846X) which was owned by the non-existent "Sperry of Texas" airline.

The con artist who, of course, has disappeared, collected $85 down payments from hundreds of students in the Boston area. The plane was to leave this weekend from Kennedy International Airport.

What has left is the students' money.

A wide investigation is being conducted by city, state and federal authorities but it appears a little like trying to close the barn door after the horse has been stolen. All of which serves to point up the unfortunate fact that larceny lurks in the heart of men and, like clothes and automobiles, it keeps coming up in new styles.

Trust is a wonderful quality but it is a mistake to misplace it.

Getting To The Facts

A new technical breakthrough in photography which, according to estimates, will cut the cost of color telecasts in half may also prove highly useful in the war in Vietnam.

Color motion pictures made from black-and-white film are being tested in Vietnam to determine their effectiveness in penetrating camouflage.

Air Force pilots on reconnaissance missions photograph the country-side with film which captures the primary colors of green, red and blue. After quick processing, the green color which reflects the foliage and jungle growth can be removed and reinserted at will.

Consequently, with only the red and blue color elementary colors, specialists often can tell if the trees are fake and if there are other forms of concealment.

Their findings can then be relayed almost instantly by satellite to both the White House and our negotiators in Paris.

The entire process can then become a new instrument of truth which can be used to expose lies advanced by the Communists relative to conditions on the battlefield.

The new technique is a vast improvement over the method of chemical defoliation of the jungles and clearly shows the value of basic research and its applications.

Letter To The Editor

Study Suggested

There are some old laws that should be changed. Now days a man, in some cases, is no better off than some animals in this country. No matter how right he is and all the proof he has on certain matters, a man is wrong for obtaining this proof.

A woman can do no wrong in this country—at least it seems this way. Lets talk about the young ladies or the girls when they go out dating a fellow for a length of time, and become really involved, and she gets into trouble. Whose fault is it? Of course, it is the man's fault.

When the case goes to court and the question is asked "Who did it?" and the answer comes, "He did it." Now the next question will come. Did he rape you or did he force you? The answer in most cases would come "No, but he did it because he is the only fellow I dated in the last six months." This may be true, but why didn't the answer come, "We agreed to it and it is our fault." But it seems that the three little worlds "HE DID IT" carry a lot of weight in this country and the man has to pay or go to jail.

And other women, when they seem to get tired of their husband because he can't give her all the things Mr. Jones is giving his wife, they begin to make excuses to go to the county courthouse. Some of the excuses are cruelty, or "we don't have this or that." And in most cases the man has gotten himself in so much debt trying to please her, but the magic words are Beaver or Lisbon because the woman knows what the outcome will be and the judge will say, "Okay Mr. Anderson, Mr. Jones," or what ever the name may be, "you will pay your wife 80 dollars a pay. Case closed, next please."

It might be well for the Beaver County Bar Association and the Columbiana County Bar Association and the state groups to appoint special committees to study this particular problem to insure justice for both sides of these cases.

Mafia, Tougher Than Ever

WASHINGTON — Time has come to talk — and write — tough, before President-elect Nixon's crime task force disbands to make merry at the Inauguration festivities. It has one more search to make — in the Congress.

Time has come to discover who are the solons who have consistently slashed anti-crime appropriations; who have peanut-ed allocations by trimming a mere $20 million from the anti-Cosa Nostra forces.

Who in the Congress has fought the use of a computer to memorize and track the multi-billion-dollar activities of some 24 Mafia "families?"

By the most scientific count, there are 2,000 men in this still inscrutable "omerta" operation. And the undermanned Organized Crime and Racketeering Section has but 117 men and women in all — only 75 of them lawyers.

Why, for example, when the utterly nonpartisan Henry Petersen, the section's crusasing chief, urged that this office be given 100 lawyers (though he could use 200) was the appropriation hacked back to 90 men? And even these additional counselors have not yet been produced.

THEY WOULD HAVE COST some ten million dollars. With no reflection on whooping cranes, for whose survival I pray regularly, and redwoods, which I do admire, why is there more spent on wildlife than on life among the wild men of the Cosa Nostra?

Mr. Petersen's 75 lawyers must evaluate the constant flow of documents, reports, and surveillance dispatches (and, finally, actually prosecute) which cover the activities of 2,000 of the crueliest and violent men the underworld has produced anywhere on the globe.

These are the 2,000 actually in the Mafia "organization." There are thousands of outsiders whom they use to run narcotics, rob banks, and act as couriers to Switzerland and Panama to deposit money in anonymous accounts, etc. The 2,000 also direct the infiltration of labor, operate do-it-yourself unions in a score of cities. They are as tough as they have always been — and as influential.

At a recent AFL-CIO Executive Council session, one of labor's toughest leaders and organizers, Harry Van Arsdale, treasurer of the 900,000 member International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, reported that the mob has so aggressive a labor machine of its own, he wanted national help to fight it in the Northeast.

And yet, the Organized Crime Section has a labor desk made up of eight to ten lawyers at the moment — and they are not full time. Why not?

Furthermore, they must depend considerably on what other investigative agencies present to them — reports on terror, embezzlement, beatings, and pressure on merchants to buy certain brands of goods.

YET, THE LABOR DEPT.'S Office of Labor-Management and Welfare-Pension Reports Compliance Division has but 150 investigators to cover the land. All but the undersized dozen do everything else but investigate — they conduct union elections, they go after delinquent reports, they do accounting, and they dig into mounds of paper work.

And when the Justice Dept.'s coordinated strike forces, "invented" by Henry Petersen — human synthesis of justice and honesty — need labor specialists as the squads hit the big cities, the best the Labor Dept. Compliance Division can send them totals 12 or 13 men. And not for just one strike force hitting one city, but for all of them across the nation, from Buffalo to Miami, via Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Detroit and other megalopolises.

These 12 to 13 men have the expertise to probe racketeering and Cosa Nostra invasion of unions. Yet, these 12 to 13 men are all who can be spared to cover eight or ten cities.

Grimly, now, add to all this the belief in the criminologists' intelligence community that at least 20 per cent of America's legitimate business is in Mafia hands. No one can scientifically prove this. But enough experts believe it to warrant reporting it.

How does Congress expect the incoming administration to fight back with a thin line of 120 to 130 men?

FOR ONE THING, the Senate, early this year, forced the House to approve the use of electronic eavesdropping in fighting the Cosa Nostra as well as the Communist espionage rings. This omnibus Law Enforcement Assistance and Criminal Justice Act gives the incoming Attorney General John Mitchell authority to use this type of electronics under strictly controlled court order. The A.G. would have to go to a federal court for specific permission in each case. This was recommended by President Johnson's Crime Commission. Yet, it has never been invoked.

And, secondly, the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section must be institutionalized into an apolitical force. It must have the money for career men, give them tenure, and remove them from Congressional political pressure, which has been exerted on a score of regional U.S. attorneys. That sort of muscle must be cramped.

The Future Of Bargaining

A climax in relations between management and labor in America is approaching and the Nixon administration will probably have to find the answer to the problem that has continued for many years to damage the economic life of the country through prolonged strikes.

Company officials and prominent union leaders speak favorably of the new secretary of labor, George P. Shultz. He is dean of the graduate school of business of the University of Chicago and has been chosen often by both sides to act as an umpire or arbitrator in labor disputes.

What the prospective secretary has said before and since his appointment was announced indicates an awareness of the need for a new formula. He believes that the federal government should not intervene as much as it has in the past and that the setting of "guidelines" by the President's Council of Economic Advisers is not a useful device.

UNQUESTIONABLY there are strikes or threatened work stoppages which require some form of outside intervention and Mr. Shultz points out that the existing federal mediation and conciliation service could be of great help in such cases. But he hopes these will be few.

Basically, of course, neither labor nor management wants governmental intervention. But it has to be recognized that both sides, when engaged in a delicate negotiation process, often take a position which forces the government, as the protector of the "public interest," to become directly involved.

In several instances in the past, collective bargaining itself has seemed to be merely a preliminary procedure. Labor usually did't make known the minimum wage scales that would be acceptable, and management likewise didn't reveal the maximum that would be offered.

Instead, unions gambled for higher and higher levels and, because management knew that labor would eventually settle for much less, the threat of a strike was discounted. Then work stoppages occurred because one side could not outbluff the other.

Certainly American industry has grown so large that strikes in some fields can do serious damage to the economy and to the comfort and convenience of the people as well as to the many small businesses that distribute manufactured products.

Union labor has long felt that, for political reasons, a Democratic administration would be on its side if the federal government intervened. The Nixon administration will have to make it clear, therefore, that it will not favor either one but will insist upon collective bargaining as the real means of settling disputes.

If there is an increase in serious interruptions to business, however, a nationwide demand will arise for the enactment of a law providing for compulsory arbitration — something which neither side will relish.

As population grows and the national economy expands, several industries become more and more important to the stability of business operations. This means that the government will have to find a way to make sure that the public interest is not impaired by strikes.

In the past, the devise used has been to provide "cooling-off" periods during which strikes were prohibited. But, in the long run, this has proved simply a method of prolonging the bargaining process itself.

It seems certain that the strike problem will force a decision on the merits of compulsory arbitration of wage disputes. While Mr. Shultz speaks of it as one of the "relatively drastic types of solution" and doesn't like the method.

He thinks that unless both labor and management show a regard for the public interest, the system of industrial relations "is going to change very drastically."

Mr. Shultz, in one of his speeches in the last few years about labor-management relations, declared that the government might step in to assure that a limited part of the steel industry, for instance, would remain in operation during a strike.

HE SAID this approach has not been tried very much but "would seem to offer real potential for protecting the public interest." He continued:

"We could have limited, continued operation but still let most of the strike go on — an approach built on the possibilty of partial operation of struck facilities."

This raises the question of whether industry-wide bargaining, which compels concerted action by management, will someday be effectively challenged as a kind of monopoly subject to anti-trust laws.

Closing In On The Moon

If everything goes as expected, Apollo 8 liftoff tomorrow morning will bring the United States well within sight of a space goal announced by President John F. Kennedy in 1961.

In pleading with Congress for approval of expensive programs aimed at putting a man on the moon before 1970, he said the time had come for the United States "to take a clearly leading role in space achievements, which, in many ways may hold the key to our future on earth."

President Kennedy called for America to spend whatever was necessary to reach the goal "before the decade is out, of landing a man on the moon and returning him safely to earth."

MR. KENNEDY did not live to see his proposal become embroiled in controversy over its high cost.

Spending by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in 1966 totaled $5.9 billion which ranked it temporarily with the Agriculture Department as the federal government's third largest spending entity.

Appropriations have been reduced in recent years and the total for fiscal 1969 is slightly under $4 billion.

Space program officials have been unable to convince all Americans that tremendous outlays of capital for exploration and research have priority over domestic problems.

Moreover, the financial burden of the costly Vietnam War places the matter of money in another light.

Benefits from the space program go far beyond the moon race, military objectives and increased civilian employment. New technology is applied by industry and eventually gets to the consumer in the form of new products or lower prices.

Scientific knowledge has increased. Planning and weather forecasting have been assisted by space research.

Many of the discoveries have long-range application and are not of a dramatic nature in terms of immediate gain.

Critics have seized on this point in their argument for a slower-paced space program resulting in a decrease in cost.

FEW HAVE CALLED for governmental abandonment of space exploration. That would be foolhardy. Most dissenters want a continuing space program that fits into a priority scheme with other national projects.

President-elect Nixon has said he favors a space program" supported at a level assuring efficient and steady progress." This could be the middle ground many have been looking for.

All the controversy will be laid aside tomorrow. When command pilot Col. Frank Borman and his two crewmen, Capt. James A. Lovell, Jr. and Maj. William A. Anders, blast off in the attempt to fly around the moon, they will have the good wishes and prayers of their fellow Americans.

The trip into distant space is dangerous but the courage of the trio of astronauts is equal to the momentous occasion, and reflects well upon their profession and their country.

Old Man Winter

Winter, which makes its formal arrival tomorrow afternoon at 2, always seems to sneak into the tri-state area.

Not only has its advance weather agent already chilled and taunted us with sleet and snow, the season annually takes up residence while we are busy with Christmas preparations and too filled with seasonal fellowship to resent or reject him.

As an old philosopher said on The Diamond this morning, "About all we can do is smile and say, 'Sock it to me.' "

A Message For Mr. Ky

Criticism of Saigon's conduct at the Paris negotiations by Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford has sparked unusual remark from South Vietnam's Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Boiling from Mr. Clifford's statement that both Hanoi and Saigon are to blame for stalling progress of the peace talks, Mr. Ky retorted that the U.S. defense chief has again "shown a gift for sayihg the wrong thing at the wrong time."

On the contrary, the last time Mr. Clifford said something that sounded "wrong" to Saigon it was when he suggested that the United States ignore the South Vietnamese boycott of the Paris talks and negotiate without them.

A few days later, South Vietnam announced it was sending a team of negotiators to Paris.

Mr. Clifford's blunt statements should be taken seriously in Saigon. They signal a determination in Washington that it is time for South Vietnam to wake up to some realities.

The United States government is thinking about the American servicemen that are dying every day in Vietnam; about those 30,000 that have already given their lives in the name of South Vietnamese independence and about the financial donation by a people of a giant country to a tiny one that asked help.

Mr. Clifford speaks for a lot of Americans when he demands as staunch an effort in pursuit of peace as is being given in pursuit of the war.

Mr. Ky should be made cognizant of the fact that America has a responsibility to its own people as well as those of the rest of world.

Telling It How It Wasn't

Today's college students are reputed to advocate telling it how it is. However, some hundreds of them, along with a number of their teachers, have just been victimized by a modern-day con man who didn't tell it like it was.

The attorney general of the State of New York said the students and teachers are the victims of "one of the most vicious charter flight frauds" ever reported in the state.

Capitalizing on the contemporary hedonism of a considerable segment of today's youth, the man who fleeced the students offered a "real bargain" on an inviting flight to Puerto Rico. He even gave them the number of the plane (N8846X) which was owned by the non-existent "Sperry of Texas" airline.

The con artist who, of course, has disappeared, collected $85 down payments from hundreds of students in the Boston area. The plane was to leave this weekend from Kennedy International Airport.

What has left is the students' money.

A wide investigation is being conducted by city, state and federal authorities but it appears a little like trying to close the barn door after the horse has been stolen. All of which serves to point up the unfortunate fact that larceny lurks in the heart of men and, like clothes and automobiles, it keeps coming up in new styles.

Trust is a wonderful quality but it is a mistake to misplace it.

Getting To The Facts

A new technical breakthrough in photography which, according to estimates, will cut the cost of color telecasts in half may also prove highly useful in the war in Vietnam.

Color motion pictures made from black-and-white film are being tested in Vietnam to determine their effectiveness in penetrating camouflage.

Air Force pilots on reconnaissance missions photograph the country-side with film which captures the primary colors of green, red and blue. After quick processing, the green color which reflects the foliage and jungle growth can be removed and reinserted at will.

Consequently, with only the red and blue color elementary colors, specialists often can tell if the trees are fake and if there are other forms of concealment.

Their findings can then be relayed almost instantly by satellite to both the White House and our negotiators in Paris.

The entire process can then become a new instrument of truth which can be used to expose lies advanced by the Communists relative to conditions on the battlefield.

The new technique is a vast improvement over the method of chemical defoliation of the jungles and clearly shows the value of basic research and its applications.

Letter To The Editor

Study Suggested

There are some old laws that should be changed. Now days a man, in some cases, is no better off than some animals in this country. No matter how right he is and all the proof he has on certain matters, a man is wrong for obtaining this proof.

A woman can do no wrong in this country—at least it seems this way. Lets talk about the young ladies or the girls when they go out dating a fellow for a length of time, and become really involved, and she gets into trouble. Whose fault is it? Of course, it is the man's fault.

When the case goes to court and the question is asked "Who did it?" and the answer comes, "He did it." Now the next question will come. Did he rape you or did he force you? The answer in most cases would come "No, but he did it because he is the only fellow I dated in the last six months." This may be true, but why didn't the answer come, "We agreed to it and it is our fault." But it seems that the three little worlds "HE DID IT" carry a lot of weight in this country and the man has to pay or go to jail.

And other women, when they seem to get tired of their husband because he can't give her all the things Mr. Jones is giving his wife, they begin to make excuses to go to the county courthouse. Some of the excuses are cruelty, or "we don't have this or that." And in most cases the man has gotten himself in so much debt trying to please her, but the magic words are Beaver or Lisbon because the woman knows what the outcome will be and the judge will say, "Okay Mr. Anderson, Mr. Jones," or what ever the name may be, "you will pay your wife 80 dollars a pay. Case closed, next please."

It might be well for the Beaver County Bar Association and the Columbiana County Bar Association and the state groups to appoint special committees to study this particular problem to insure justice for both sides of these cases.

Many Donations Made For Fire-Hit Family

LISBON — Community organizations, merchants and residents have donated money, clothing and furniture to the Clyde McVay family of Lisbon RD 1, whose home was leveled by fire Wednesday.

Services were held this afternoon at the Henry Funeral Home here for Mr. and Mrs. McVay's three youngest sons who died in the blaze—Clyde Jr., 16 months; John, 3, and Charles Wesley, 4. Burial was in Lee Cemetery.

William E. Hiscox of Lisbon, director of Lisbon area disaster resources for the Red Cross, said he had used some donated money to buy groceries and has deposited more than $100 of donations in a special fund to meet expenses of the family. Other money has been promised, he said.

The Rev. Gilbert Thomas of Trinity Friends Church near the McVays' former home on Trinity Church Rd. is accepting donations in that area five miles west of here. The money will be administered by Hiscox and the minister.

Hiscox said the Red Cross bought groceries for the family Thursday and bought a complete outfit of clothing for the parents and four children.

Mr. and Mrs. McVay are staying temporarily with his brother, Gale, next door to their former home. The four youngsters, ages 5 to 11, are with Mrs. McVay's mother, Mrs. Clara Brown of Toronto.

The family has decided not to move into the vacant home of Mr. McVay's mother, Mrs. Tressa McVay, who died Dec. 1. Hiscox said the house has no furnace and is unsuitable for a family.

He said the McVays have plenty of clothing. Offers of furniture are being recorded so items can be picked up when the parents decide where they will live. Hiscox said they want to remain in the same area because the three oldest children are in school at Wayne. "There's just no housing available in the neighborhood," Hiscox added.

10-Day Term Given Driver

LISBON — Nicholas Duley of Niles was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail Thursday by Judge J. L. MacDonald of Columbiana County Southwest Court for driving without an operator's license.

Also fined on pleas of guilty were Donald G. Reed, Center St., East Liverpool, speeding, and William R. Mease, Minerva, stop sign violation, $10 and costs each.

Appearance bonds were forfeited by Clem F. Hull, Lisbon, overloaded truck, $105; John R. Mrugala, Salem RD 3, same, $46.80; Leo G. Willison, Minerva, speeding, $25; Harold G. Whitla, Wellsville; David L. Howard, 223 E. 3rd St., East Liverpool; Ronald L. Flower, Warren, and William H. Nixon, Wellsville, all cited for speeding, $20 each, and Larry Gill, Minerva, passing traffic in a hazardous zone, $20.

2 Juveniles Arrested As Window's Smashed

Two juveniles were cited by police early Thursday night after a big plate glass window in a Dresden Ave. furniture store was broken by their horseplay.

Patrolman Dwight Garvey reported he was dispatched at 7:33 on a complaint a window had been broken in the National Furniture Store at 759 Dresden Ave., owned by Earl Tweed of W. 3rd St.

Garvey found a man holding a youth whom he had nabbed fleeing after the window was broken. The boy told the officer he and another boy had been "acting a fool" in front of the store and the other boy fell against the window. Police identified the two boys as residents of Grant St. and Dresden Ave.

John C. Calhoun was the only man ever to resign from the office of U.S. vice-president.

Broadway Crash Damages 2 Autos

Two cars were damaged in a mishap on Broadway at E. 4th St. Thursday at 1:13 p.m., police reported.

The collision involved a 1961 four-door sedan operated by Miss Rebecca J. Eagle, 17, of Simms Rd. and a 1965 two-door convertible driven by Miss Rosemary Morris, 21, of 1325 Fairmont St. There was damage to the right rear of the Eagle car and the right front of the Morris auto.

Miss Eagle said she was traveling south on Broadway when Miss Morris, turning off E. 4th St., hit her car in the rear. Miss Morris said she had halted for a stop sign and was turning north and did not see the Eagle car until too late.

Flu, Pneumonia Deaths High In Some U.S. Areas

By The Associated Press

Deaths from influenza, pneumonia and related diseases have reached epidemic proportions in some U.S. cities durjng the past two weeks, the National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta announced today.

The center said 703 deaths from pneumonia-influenza—213 more than normal—had been reported in 122 cities during the week that ended Dec. 14.

The flu epidemic continued today to cause school closings, cancellations of public events, and slowed-down business and holiday activities.

It also threatened to dim a major social event—the wedding on Sunday of Julie Nixon to David Eisenhower. Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the groom's grandmother, was reported ill at Walter Reed Army Hospital, where her husband, the former president, is recuperating from a recent series of heart attacks.

The former first lady's press secretary said Mrs. Eisenhower may join her husband in viewing the wedding on closed-circuit television in Eisenhower's hospital room.

Joining Mrs. Eisenhower, President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on the sick list were many other notables. including Senator-elect Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Special Presidential Assistant Walt W. Rostow, Assistant White House Press Secretary Tom Johnson, and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

New York City Health Commissioner Edward O'Rourke said that because of the flu epidemic and a concurrent strike by fuel oil deliverers in New York, "The situation is bad today, but it will be worse Saturday and still worse by next week."

A tentative settlement of the strike was announced Thursday night but there was little hope of resuming deliveries pending a ratification vote by drivers Sunday.

The National Communicable Disease Center said the most severe outbreaks of respiratory diseases, including Hong Kong flu and other influenza strains, had been reported in the Central Northeastern, Rocky Mountain and Middle Atlantic States.

The center cautioned, however, that a definite trend could not be established until statistics are compiled for another week.

Many Donations Made For Fire-Hit Family

LISBON — Community organizations, merchants and residents have donated money, clothing and furniture to the Clyde McVay family of Lisbon RD 1, whose home was leveled by fire Wednesday.

Services were held this afternoon at the Henry Funeral Home here for Mr. and Mrs. McVay's three youngest sons who died in the blaze—Clyde Jr., 16 months; John, 3, and Charles Wesley, 4. Burial was in Lee Cemetery.

William E. Hiscox of Lisbon, director of Lisbon area disaster resources for the Red Cross, said he had used some donated money to buy groceries and has deposited more than $100 of donations in a special fund to meet expenses of the family. Other money has been promised, he said.

The Rev. Gilbert Thomas of Trinity Friends Church near the McVays' former home on Trinity Church Rd. is accepting donations in that area five miles west of here. The money will be administered by Hiscox and the minister.

Hiscox said the Red Cross bought groceries for the family Thursday and bought a complete outfit of clothing for the parents and four children.

Mr. and Mrs. McVay are staying temporarily with his brother, Gale, next door to their former home. The four youngsters, ages 5 to 11, are with Mrs. McVay's mother, Mrs. Clara Brown of Toronto.

The family has decided not to move into the vacant home of Mr. McVay's mother, Mrs. Tressa McVay, who died Dec. 1. Hiscox said the house has no furnace and is unsuitable for a family.

He said the McVays have plenty of clothing. Offers of furniture are being recorded so items can be picked up when the parents decide where they will live. Hiscox said they want to remain in the same area because the three oldest children are in school at Wayne. "There's just no housing available in the neighborhood," Hiscox added.

10-Day Term Given Driver

LISBON — Nicholas Duley of Niles was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail Thursday by Judge J. L. MacDonald of Columbiana County Southwest Court for driving without an operator's license.

Also fined on pleas of guilty were Donald G. Reed, Center St., East Liverpool, speeding, and William R. Mease, Minerva, stop sign violation, $10 and costs each.

Appearance bonds were forfeited by Clem F. Hull, Lisbon, overloaded truck, $105; John R. Mrugala, Salem RD 3, same, $46.80; Leo G. Willison, Minerva, speeding, $25; Harold G. Whitla, Wellsville; David L. Howard, 223 E. 3rd St., East Liverpool; Ronald L. Flower, Warren, and William H. Nixon, Wellsville, all cited for speeding, $20 each, and Larry Gill, Minerva, passing traffic in a hazardous zone, $20.

ANN LANDERS

A Good Turn For Whom?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me if I'm being mad for nothing. I'm a Girl Scout and I love it, or maybe I should be honest and say I loved it before we got this weird substitute for a scout leader. Our regular leader had to have an operation so her assistant is taking over.

The assistant has decided that too many girls get married these days without knowing the first thing about housekeeping. For the last three meetings she's had the whole troop to her house, cleaning it from top to bottom.

I didn't join scouts to scrub floors and wash walls. I can do that at home. Today Mrs. D. announced that next week we're going to learn how to line cupboards and shelves with oilcloth and make old pots and pans look like new by using elbow grease. I already KNOW how, and it's hard work.

Four girls plus myself are so mad we may quit scouts until our old leader comes back. What do you think about this? — WEARY BONES.

Dear Bones: I think Mrs. D. is going to have a very clean house and some very shiny pots. Have you and the other girls told her you believe she is taking advantage of the situation? If not, you should.

Found Out

Dear Ann: I'm a 15-year-old girl who has grown up reading your column. I've written to you at least five times and you've always given me good advice.

Yesterday my mother found a letter addressed to you. (The letter was in my purse, which should give you an idea of what goes on around our house.) Mom put a fake, hurt look on her face and asked, "Why do you have to write to Ann Landers, dear? Why can't you talk to ME about things that bother you?"

I lied and told her I was better at writing than talking. But here are the REAL reasons I can't talk to her. I hope she and other mothers whose teenage daughters don't talk to them see this in the paper. Several of my friends have the same complaint:

1. My mother can't keep her tongue still. I've heard her tell her bridge club things that should have been kept in the family.

2. The times I tried to talk to Mom she put me down and made me feel as if my problems were childish and unimportant.

3. My mother keeps comparing me to herself when she was my age. She doesn't realize that these are not the olden days. I'm living in a different era than when she grew up.

Thanks for your help. Ann. — I'M GLAD THERE'S YOU.

Dear Glad: That makes two of us. Thank you for writing.

Confidentially

To Flunking Florence: You can't ask your parents to throw out the TV, kick out your little brothers and shoot the dog. Surely there is ONE room where you can go and close the door. If not, stay in school and do your homework.

Boys Penalized In Coin Machine Tampering Case

NEW WATERFORD — Two area youths, 17 and 15, were punished Wednesday in Juvenile Court at Lisbon for tampering with a coin-changing machine at a local laundry.

Authorities said the boys were observed tearing scraps from the telephone book and putting them in the change machine. Officers found about $7 in quarters on the boys and several of the scrap paper bills in the machine.

Judge Louis Tobin fined the older boy $15 plus another $25 as a donation to the Columbiana County foster children's Christmas fund.

The other boy, on probation since last spring, was placed in detention until Jan. 2.

Boys Penalized In Coin Machine Tampering Case

NEW WATERFORD — Two area youths, 17 and 15, were punished Wednesday in Juvenile Court at Lisbon for tampering with a coin-changing machine at a local laundry.

Authorities said the boys were observed tearing scraps from the telephone book and putting them in the change machine. Officers found about $7 in quarters on the boys and several of the scrap paper bills in the machine.

Judge Louis Tobin fined the older boy $15 plus another $25 as a donation to the Columbiana County foster children's Christmas fund.

The other boy, on probation since last spring, was placed in detention until Jan. 2.

Miss Donna Jean Mills, Joseph Blankenship Wed

A holiday color theme predominated during the wedding of Miss Donna Jean Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Mills of Lisbon St., when she became the bride of Joseph D. Blankenship, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Blankenship of Pennsylvania Ave., Dec. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Church of Christ.

The Rev. John Mostoller of Williamsport, Pa., former minister here, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before a background of palms, ferns and flowers. Satin bows marked the family pews. Ralph Falconer was organist. Mrs. Gene Smith and Morris Falconer were soloists.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace designed with a bouffant skirt of lace tiers. The fitted bodice, accented with sequins, was fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The train was chapel length.

Her headpiece, a forward cluster of pearls and sequins, and illusion veil were borrowed from a sister, Mrs. Charles White. She carried a white Bible belonging to her great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Vern McIntosh. It was topped with an arrangement of two white orchids, stephanotis and satin streamers. The traditions were observed.

Mrs. White, matron of honor, wore a full-length green velvet gown and headpiece of white fur. She carried a white muff topped with an arrangement of red carnations and holly.

Bridesmaids were Miss Melody Kay Mills, sister of the bride; Miss Sharon Mills, her aunt, and Miss Alice Mae Rockenhauser. They appeared in red velvet gowns and white fur headpieces and carried white fur muffs topped with red carnations and holly.

Lori Smith was flower girl and John Orr ringbearer. They are cousins of the bride. The cushion he carried was made by Mrs. Otis Blankenship, grandmother of the bridegroom.

William Blankenship served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Louis Ludwig and Robert Woomer, cousins of the bridegroom, and Michael Mills, brother of the bride.

MRS. JOSEPH BLANKENSHIP
Has Double-Ring Rites.

—:—

Aides were Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Ed House and Mrs. Louis Skvarka.

The newlyweds are graduates of East Liverpool High School, the bride in 1967 and her husband in 1964. He is associated with his grandfather, Otis Blankenship, in the Blankenship Insurance Agency.

Make your Christmas calls this weekend!

Christmas Day gets away too fast. But if you make your long distance calls this weekend, you'll get a happy head start on the very best part of Christmas; the getting-together with friends and loved ones you don't see all year long. You'll beat the Christmas Day rush, too. And you'll save money, because low, bargain rates are also in effect all weekend. If you don't know the out-of-town numbers, make a free call to the Universal Long Distance Operator in each city on your list. Dial 1. Then dial the area code, if it's different from yours. (Area codes are listed in your phone book.) Then dial 555-1212. Ask for numbers you need, write them down, then dial direct. Call station-to-station any time this weekend, and charges will be a dollar or less, for three minutes anywhere in the U.S.A. Except Alaska or Hawaii. So save money, beat the rush, and get a happy head start on Christmas. Make your long distance calls this weekend.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Refilling Pen Cartridges

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a fountain pen that uses plastic refills, never discard the little cartridges after the ink is used up. You can refill them yourself with ink from a bottle.

Heloise

First, turn the bottle so ink fills the little well that most ink bottles have. It's easier to fill 'em from the well than to dip your fingers into the bottle.

Next, squeeze the plastic refill in your fingers and put the end with the hole into the ink and release the pressure of your fingers. Ink will be sucked up into the refill.

Remove the refill and hold the end with the hole up. Squeeze out some of the air, keeping the ink in.

Repeat the procedure until the refill is full. Then you're ready to use it again.

Just one thing . . . when you go to use the plastic refill, don't put it into the barrel of the pen like you would when there was no hole. Be sure to put the refill on the pen part, then screw it into the barrel.

Much less expensive to buy a bottle of ink than to buy so many refills, eh?

DORIS STUPAK.

Sure is, Doris. And we use so many, You even saved on my budget. Thanks, Sweetie-Pie.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those diaper pails with the space for a deodorant pad (the odd-shaped ones you can never find), stuff a large wad of cotton in the space and spray it with any kind of air-freshner or wet it with pine oil.

It sure serves the purpose and works great.

LESLIE BURCH.

DEAR FOLKS: In our family we have what I call serious, long-hair records for our hi-fi. And my darling teenage daughter has her raz-a-ma-taz ones. (That expression dates me I guess. . .they're really terrific Folk-rock!) Well, I've learned one thing after checking my records recently to see if I got them all back from "borrowers."

If you use an ink marker to write your name and address on the outside of the container and on BOTH sides of the label in the middle of the record, along with your address, you're bound to get 'em back someday.

Teenagers have complained to me for years that they never get all their records back when they take them to a party. They put stickum labels on 'em which other people can tear off. But names put on with ink markers cannot be erased.

You might try it. I know it works because I've been in the "teenagers and hi-fi" phase about 12 years.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Apple pies made with apples that are not very tasty are improved immeasurably by adding undiluted, defrosted apple juice concentrate to the apple-sugar-flour mixture before putting that into the shell and baking.

MARLIE JOHNSON.

DEAR HELOISE: For a pretty and easy way to make a Christmas bell, cover paper cups with aluminum foil (silver, red or green) and punch holes through the cup bottoms.

Then thread Christmas ribbon through each hole. Knot it on the inside of the cup to keep it in place, leaving a little ribbon above the cup for hanging and a piece of ribbon dangling inside.

Tie a dime store jingle bell to the end of the inside ribbon and hang these bells on your Christmas tree! Or anywhere you wish a bright sparking decoration.

The children will love to make these.

ANN M.

DEAR HELOISE: Try shaking a thermometer down while it's still in the case.

It's easier to hold and reduces the chance of breakage if it should be dropped.

LUCY.

DEAR HELOISE: I have fixed up a small tool chest to keep in my kitchen. It contains a hammer, three wrenches, three screwdrivers, small nails and tacks, oil, glue, cord, screws and a pair of pliers.

It has saved a thousand trips to the basement.

MRS. SHIRREFFS.

'Card Shower' Will Mark 60th Anniversary Of Pair

A card shower by friends and relatives will mark the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McConnell of Georgetown RD 1 Tuesday.

The couple was married Dec. 24, 1908, at 6 p.m. at the home of her parents in Imperial by the late Rev. James Potter of Potter Township, pastor of the Clinton United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. McConnell is the former Ora Tustin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hughie H. Tustin of Imperial and Burgettstown. Her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. McConnell of Independence Township.

The McConnells moved to their home in Hanover Township 59 years ago. Before retiring, McConnell was employed a short time in the oil fields, was a self-employed trucker and a farmer.

Both are members of the Bethel United Methodist Church, where Mrs. McConnell still attends regularly. He has been confined to a wheelchair for several years.

They have a son, Hughie E. McConnell of Little Rock, Ark.; two daughters, Mrs. Walter (Dessie) Boling and Mrs. James (Hazel) Calhoun both of Aliquippa RD 2, and nine grandchildren and 22 great - grandchildren.

Paul

of 465½ Mulberry St., entered the hospital Dec. 3 for renewed treatment of an obscure disease wich threatens to destroy his kidneys and end his life. Learning that a $1,500 hospital bill has accumulated against the family of modest means, the public began showering money into the "Paul McCraw Fund" to help with the debt.

But instead of dwindling into nothingnes after a few days—as many had expected — the tempo of the contributions has gained each day.

PAUL SPENDS two days a week on an artificial kidney machine at a Veterans Administration hospital, the only way his blood can be cleansed to keep him alive. The family hopes he will receive a kidney transplant that will prolong his life for as much as five years.

The family reported Paul was "feeling pretty good" last night when his father visited him. The boy spent yesterday on the artificial kidney machine and the cleansing of his blood may have helped improve his condition temporarily, the family said.

Mrs. McCraw has not been able to see her son since Sunday, when she was stricken with flu, but she said her bout with the "bug" appears to be nearly over.

The family has not received definite word yet from physicians whether Paul will be allowed to come home for Christmas, but they expect he will be required to stay at the hospital. Two plastic tubes are sewn into a vein and artery of his arm to allow the twice-weekly hookups with the kidney machine and the family feels that fact may preclude a holiday visit home.

Two of Paul's brothers, both servicemen on emergency leave, have stayed with him at the VA hospital and Children's Hospital. He is back at Children's Hospital today after the dialysis. His next treatment with the machine is due Tuesday.

and Viet Cong maneuver battalions plus about 20 local force battalions to commit to the campaign, or about 25,000 troops.

Against this, the allies have about 80,000 troops in 120 maneuver battalions, including 50 American, 64 South Vietnamese and six Australian and Thai.

"We have no indications the enemy has changed his plans," the source said.

In the continuing American campaign to blunt the expected assault, 13 Air Force B52s dumped more than 500 tons of bombs on the jungled approach corridors 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

American paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Brigade sweeping the outer perimeters of Saigon seized 200 rounds of mortar shells and bazooka-type rockets 11 miles from the capital.

Eight allied bases and three provincial capitals were shelled during Thursday night, with four Vietnamese civilians reported killed and 25 wounded.

Only one American base came under fire. North Vietnamese firing from two positions nsde the demltarzed zone slammed 10 rounds of mortar shells at U.S. Marne positions but caused no casualties or damage. U.S. headquarters said. The Marines returned the fire.

No major ground fighting was reported across the country.

Authorities Use Fingerprints To Check Fire Dead

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Authorities are using fingerprint checks in an effort to identify three of the five men killed in a low-rent, downtown hotel fire Thursday

Sixty firemen rushed to the A&A Hotel on West Sixth Street and officials said the fire had a good start on the old, four-story brick building.

Most of the occupants were pensioners or spot laborers.

Two of the victims were tentatively identified as Kenneth Hart, 55, and Steve Topole, 63.

Ladders were used to rescue 10 to 15 persons. The fire was blamed on careless smoking.

Damage was estimated at $75,000, including contents. Al Friedman, owner of a clothing store on the first floor said his loss was $100,000.

Nixon

sador will have Cabinet status," said Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press aide, in scheduling the long-delayed announcement.

Nixon men are confident that Cabinet confirmation proceedings will be smooth and largely routine, for none of the 12 men the president-elect appointed is a figure of controversy.

But the Nixon staff isn't taking any chances. The target: Senate confirmation of the entire Cabinet before Jan. 20, the day Nixon is to be inaugurated, so that his top administration figures can also take their oaths of office on that day.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, already has sought to arrange speedy confirmation of the Nixon men. Dirksen said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., promised cooperation in that effort.

John D. Ehrlichman, who will be Nixon's White House counsel, is in charge of dealing in advance with any conflict of interest problems. That is the major thrust of the booklet, which warns:

"It is worth emphasizing that the appearance of a conflict could be just as embarrassing to the administration and the Cabinet appointee as an actual conflict."

The document also gives Cabinet men a bit of advice on what to expect when confirmation proceedings begin. "The type of information which a Cabinet appointee must be expected to provide and the nature of the proceedings within the Senate committees depend on his job and the committee which will confirm him," the booklet notes.

It offers a forecast for Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., designated to be secretary of defense:

"For example, the Senate Armed Services Committee has always required the fullest disclosure by a Cabinet appointee and the hearings have usually been lengthy."

The Nixon staff booklet promises "a special procedure, tailored to the needs of each Cabinet appointee, will be set up. Participation by the ranking minority senator on the confirming committee, senators from the Cabinet appointee's home state, and certain White House staff members will usually be required to insure a smooth confirmation proceeding.

To avert conflict of interest problems, each Nixon nominee has been asked to report on his financial holdings. Ehrlichman's staff will analyze the reports, "note those particular financial interests which suggest a potential conflict of interest," and recommend acceptable solutions.

"Where a conflict of interest appears, a legally binding arrangement must be established which will eliminate the conflict," Cabinet designates have been told.

Nixon, on his last full day of business prior to the Sunday wedding of his daughter, Julie, to David Eisenhower, and a Christmas vacation in Florida, confers with Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

He also sees a delegation from the National League of Cities and Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, who will be his secretary of transportation.

Investigation Continues In County Death

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said today that he and his deputies have questioned 150 in their investigation of a $50 burglary which resulted in the death of Mrs. Theodosia Wood, 81, of Westfield Rd. Tuesday night.

"We have no suspects," the sheriff said this morning.

Mrs. Wood was dead on arrival at City Hospital about 11:15.

Earlier that night, intruders smashed their way through the front door of the house where she lived with her brother, Emmett Cheney, 86, Cheney said the burglars threw both of them to the floor and taped his hands behind his back.

He was unable to describe the men and was not sure how many came in. He thought "two or three."

Dr. William Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner, conducted an autopsy Wednesday and ruled the death a homicide. He said there was internal bleeding from a blunt force injury to the abdomen.

The sheriff said he has quesoned all the neighbors and everyone he can find who knew the elderly couple. He and six deputies were on the scene within a short tim after Mrs. Irene Gilkinson, a neighbor, reported the burglary and called an ambulance for Mrs. Wood.

Cheney went to the Gilkinson home for help because the burglars pulled the wire off his phone.

7 Arrested In Phony Money Crackdown

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The U.S. Secret Service, claiming $30,000 worth of phony $10 and $20 bills have been pased in Western Pennsylvania in the past two months, arrested seven men Thursday in its latest crackdown on counterfeiting.

Arrested were Paul J. Sasko, 41, of Monongahela; William E. Allen, 27, of Donora; Joseph Stataro, 39, of Avella; Frank Bongiorni, 18, of Atlasburg; and George M. Drazick, 20, Josephine Moss, 37, and Donald Esno, 29, all of Slovan.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Refilling Pen Cartridges

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a fountain pen that uses plastic refills, never discard the little cartridges after the ink is used up. You can refill them yourself with ink from a bottle.

Heloise

First, turn the bottle so ink fills the little well that most ink bottles have. It's easier to fill 'em from the well than to dip your fingers into the bottle.

Next, squeeze the plastic refill in your fingers and put the end with the hole into the ink and release the pressure of your fingers. Ink will be sucked up into the refill.

Remove the refill and hold the end with the hole up. Squeeze out some of the air, keeping the ink in.

Repeat the procedure until the refill is full. Then you're ready to use it again.

Just one thing . . . when you go to use the plastic refill, don't put it into the barrel of the pen like you would when there was no hole. Be sure to put the refill on the pen part, then screw it into the barrel.

Much less expensive to buy a bottle of ink than to buy so many refills, eh?

DORIS STUPAK.

Sure is, Doris. And we use so many, You even saved on my budget. Thanks, Sweetie-Pie.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those diaper pails with the space for a deodorant pad (the odd-shaped ones you can never find), stuff a large wad of cotton in the space and spray it with any kind of air-freshner or wet it with pine oil.

It sure serves the purpose and works great.

LESLIE BURCH.

DEAR FOLKS: In our family we have what I call serious, long-hair records for our hi-fi. And my darling teenage daughter has her raz-a-ma-taz ones. (That expression dates me I guess. . .they're really terrific Folk-rock!) Well, I've learned one thing after checking my records recently to see if I got them all back from "borrowers."

If you use an ink marker to write your name and address on the outside of the container and on BOTH sides of the label in the middle of the record, along with your address, you're bound to get 'em back someday.

Teenagers have complained to me for years that they never get all their records back when they take them to a party. They put stickum labels on 'em which other people can tear off. But names put on with ink markers cannot be erased.

You might try it. I know it works because I've been in the "teenagers and hi-fi" phase about 12 years.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Apple pies made with apples that are not very tasty are improved immeasurably by adding undiluted, defrosted apple juice concentrate to the apple-sugar-flour mixture before putting that into the shell and baking.

MARLIE JOHNSON.

DEAR HELOISE: For a pretty and easy way to make a Christmas bell, cover paper cups with aluminum foil (silver, red or green) and punch holes through the cup bottoms.

Then thread Christmas ribbon through each hole. Knot it on the inside of the cup to keep it in place, leaving a little ribbon above the cup for hanging and a piece of ribbon dangling inside.

Tie a dime store jingle bell to the end of the inside ribbon and hang these bells on your Christmas tree! Or anywhere you wish a bright sparking decoration.

The children will love to make these.

ANN M.

DEAR HELOISE: Try shaking a thermometer down while it's still in the case.

It's easier to hold and reduces the chance of breakage if it should be dropped.

LUCY.

DEAR HELOISE: I have fixed up a small tool chest to keep in my kitchen. It contains a hammer, three wrenches, three screwdrivers, small nails and tacks, oil, glue, cord, screws and a pair of pliers.

It has saved a thousand trips to the basement.

MRS. SHIRREFFS.

'Card Shower' Will Mark 60th Anniversary Of Pair

A card shower by friends and relatives will mark the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McConnell of Georgetown RD 1 Tuesday.

The couple was married Dec. 24, 1908, at 6 p.m. at the home of her parents in Imperial by the late Rev. James Potter of Potter Township, pastor of the Clinton United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. McConnell is the former Ora Tustin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hughie H. Tustin of Imperial and Burgettstown. Her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. McConnell of Independence Township.

The McConnells moved to their home in Hanover Township 59 years ago. Before retiring, McConnell was employed a short time in the oil fields, was a self-employed trucker and a farmer.

Both are members of the Bethel United Methodist Church, where Mrs. McConnell still attends regularly. He has been confined to a wheelchair for several years.

They have a son, Hughie E. McConnell of Little Rock, Ark.; two daughters, Mrs. Walter (Dessie) Boling and Mrs. James (Hazel) Calhoun both of Aliquippa RD 2, and nine grandchildren and 22 great - grandchildren.

Paul

of 465½ Mulberry St., entered the hospital Dec. 3 for renewed treatment of an obscure disease wich threatens to destroy his kidneys and end his life. Learning that a $1,500 hospital bill has accumulated against the family of modest means, the public began showering money into the "Paul McCraw Fund" to help with the debt.

But instead of dwindling into nothingnes after a few days—as many had expected — the tempo of the contributions has gained each day.

PAUL SPENDS two days a week on an artificial kidney machine at a Veterans Administration hospital, the only way his blood can be cleansed to keep him alive. The family hopes he will receive a kidney transplant that will prolong his life for as much as five years.

The family reported Paul was "feeling pretty good" last night when his father visited him. The boy spent yesterday on the artificial kidney machine and the cleansing of his blood may have helped improve his condition temporarily, the family said.

Mrs. McCraw has not been able to see her son since Sunday, when she was stricken with flu, but she said her bout with the "bug" appears to be nearly over.

The family has not received definite word yet from physicians whether Paul will be allowed to come home for Christmas, but they expect he will be required to stay at the hospital. Two plastic tubes are sewn into a vein and artery of his arm to allow the twice-weekly hookups with the kidney machine and the family feels that fact may preclude a holiday visit home.

Two of Paul's brothers, both servicemen on emergency leave, have stayed with him at the VA hospital and Children's Hospital. He is back at Children's Hospital today after the dialysis. His next treatment with the machine is due Tuesday.

Contributions to aid the family may be mailed to:

and Viet Cong maneuver battalions plus about 20 local force battalions to commit to the campaign, or about 25,000 troops.

Against this, the allies have about 80,000 troops in 120 maneuver battalions, including 50 American, 64 South Vietnamese and six Australian and Thai.

"We have no indications the enemy has changed his plans," the source said.

In the continuing American campaign to blunt the expected assault, 13 Air Force B52s dumped more than 500 tons of bombs on the jungled approach corridors 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

American paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Brigade sweeping the outer perimeters of Saigon seized 200 rounds of mortar shells and bazooka-type rockets 11 miles from the capital.

Eight allied bases and three provincial capitals were shelled during Thursday night, with four Vietnamese civilians reported killed and 25 wounded.

Only one American base came under fire. North Vietnamese firing from two positions nsde the demltarzed zone slammed 10 rounds of mortar shells at U.S. Marne positions but caused no casualties or damage. U.S. headquarters said. The Marines returned the fire.

No major ground fighting was reported across the country.

Authorities Use Fingerprints To Check Fire Dead

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Authorities are using fingerprint checks in an effort to identify three of the five men killed in a low-rent, downtown hotel fire Thursday

Sixty firemen rushed to the A&A Hotel on West Sixth Street and officials said the fire had a good start on the old, four-story brick building.

Most of the occupants were pensioners or spot laborers.

Two of the victims were tentatively identified as Kenneth Hart, 55, and Steve Topole, 63.

Ladders were used to rescue 10 to 15 persons. The fire was blamed on careless smoking.

Damage was estimated at $75,000, including contents. Al Friedman, owner of a clothing store on the first floor said his loss was $100,000.

Nixon

sador will have Cabinet status," said Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press aide, in scheduling the long-delayed announcement.

Nixon men are confident that Cabinet confirmation proceedings will be smooth and largely routine, for none of the 12 men the president-elect appointed is a figure of controversy.

But the Nixon staff isn't taking any chances. The target: Senate confirmation of the entire Cabinet before Jan. 20, the day Nixon is to be inaugurated, so that his top administration figures can also take their oaths of office on that day.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, already has sought to arrange speedy confirmation of the Nixon men. Dirksen said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., promised cooperation in that effort.

John D. Ehrlichman, who will be Nixon's White House counsel, is in charge of dealing in advance with any conflict of interest problems. That is the major thrust of the booklet, which warns:

"It is worth emphasizing that the appearance of a conflict could be just as embarrassing to the administration and the Cabinet appointee as an actual conflict."

The document also gives Cabinet men a bit of advice on what to expect when confirmation proceedings begin. "The type of information which a Cabinet appointee must be expected to provide and the nature of the proceedings within the Senate committees depend on his job and the committee which will confirm him," the booklet notes.

It offers a forecast for Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., designated to be secretary of defense:

"For example, the Senate Armed Services Committee has always required the fullest disclosure by a Cabinet appointee and the hearings have usually been lengthy."

The Nixon staff booklet promises "a special procedure, tailored to the needs of each Cabinet appointee, will be set up. Participation by the ranking minority senator on the confirming committee, senators from the Cabinet appointee's home state, and certain White House staff members will usually be required to insure a smooth confirmation proceeding.

To avert conflict of interest problems, each Nixon nominee has been asked to report on his financial holdings. Ehrlichman's staff will analyze the reports, "note those particular financial interests which suggest a potential conflict of interest," and recommend acceptable solutions.

"Where a conflict of interest appears, a legally binding arrangement must be established which will eliminate the conflict," Cabinet designates have been told.

Nixon, on his last full day of business prior to the Sunday wedding of his daughter, Julie, to David Eisenhower, and a Christmas vacation in Florida, confers with Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

He also sees a delegation from the National League of Cities and Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, who will be his secretary of transportation.

LBJ Speaks Of 'Rocking Chair'

Higher Pay Awaits Most Out-Going U.S. Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson speaks longingly of the rocking chair that waits for him in Texas when he leaves the presidency Jan. 20.

Everybody in Washington and Texas knows it is just a figurative rocking chair. Johnson is expected to be riding an executive swivel chair, spinning rapidly from banking to broadcasting to ranching to real estate as he tends to his multimillion dollar assets.

There won't be rocking chair riders or welfare cases among the outgoing cabinet officers or White House aides, either. Most will step into jobs paying a lot more than they got from Uncle Sam.

Some are still weighing offers, some are keeping mum about their business plans, as Johnson is. But most have already nailed down executive jobs in corporations and foundations, or are moving into well-paid college presidencies, professorships or law practices.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler will become a general partner in the distinguished New York investment banking firm of Goldman, Sachs & Co., Jan. 1.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford says he has "no plans whatsoever," but is expected to resume his flourishing law practice in Washington.

Assistant Defense Secretary Alain Enthoven will become vice president of the big and still growing Litton Industries, Inc., a major defense contractor. He'll direct Litton's economic planning.

Dr. Harold Brown, secretary of the air force, will become president of California Institute of Technology, replacing Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, who is coming to Washington to be President-elect Nixon's top adviser on science and technology.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will return to the Rockefeller Foundation, where he was president for eight years before entering President Kennedy's cabinet. As its first Distinguished Fellow, he'll draw what the foundation's directors call "a very comfortable stipend."

Undersecretary of State Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, the former attorney general, who was a law professor before he came to Washington, will become vice president and general counsel of IBM in New York.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has accepted the presidency of EDP Technology, Inc. in Washington.

Stewart L. Udall, secretary of Interior, plans to set up a law firm with offices in Washington and Phoenix. When asked, he doesn't deny he might run in 1970 for the U.S. Senate seat of Republican Paul J. Fannin.

The secretary of housing and urban development, Robert C. Weaver, becomes president on Jan. 1 of New York City's new Bernard Baruch College.

Wilbur J. Cohen, secretary of health, education and welfare, will return to the University of Michigan, where he taught public welfare until he joined the Kennedy administration in 1961.

Secretary of Commerce C. R. Smith, who was drafted by Johnson upon his retirement as president and board chairman of American Airlines, Inc., has only revealed that "I won't be around Washington on Jan. 20."

Other cabinet officers have said even less about their plans, but none are expected to need CARE packages.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, former law partner of the late Adlai Stevenson, has had a number of offers and probably will stay in Washington, but says he doesn't know what he will do.

Postmaster General Marvin Watson, Attorney General Ramsey Clark and Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd also say they don't know—or aren't talking.

One of Johnson's key men at the White House, special assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr., 37, will join the large and prestige-laden Washington law firm of Arnold and Porter.

But Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen of the Internal Revenue Service, 41, who quit Arnold and Porter to enter the government, plans to set up his own law firm.

White House press secretary George Christian plans to return to Austin for public relations work. Another press aide, Tom Johnson, expects to go right on working for Johnson, as executive assistant.

Betty Furness, presidential special assistant for consumer affairs, has had several offers to write columns and hasn't ruled out that possibility.

Liz Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Johnson, will write a book; it already has a publisher.

Presidential Assistant Walt W. Rostow and Mrs. Rostow will both teach at the University of Texas in Austin.

Rostow's brother, Eugene V. Rostow, undersecretary of state for political affairs, will return to Yale where he was dean and professor at its law school.

Six Are Treated At City Hospital

Harold Derenburger of 937 Denver St., an employe of the Hall China Co., suffered a laceration of the left fifth finger on a jiggering tool.

Susan Lynn Bland, daughter of Clarence Bland of Chester RD 1, a fractured left elbow in a fall.

322 Register To Date For Kent Quarter

More than 322 students registered this week for the winter quarter at the East Liverpool branch of Kent State University, with "late registration" open until Jan. 3.

Basing his comment on fall registration, Director Richard Q. King said Thursday that the winter quarter enrollment "looks very good." He pointed out that the original fall registration was 317, but mounted to 400 before the final deadline.

Those who did not register and pay fees Tuesday may still do so until Jan. 3. King explained that in addition to the fees there will be a late registration charge of $5.

The book store will be open on Jan. 3 from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., with books that were not available on Tuesday to be on the shelves then.

Ohioan, 46, Indicted In Income Tax Case

CHICAGO (AP)—William M. Breen, 46, of Felicity, Clermont County, Ohio, was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on charges of evading $26,761 in income taxes.

The indictment accuses Breen of reporting income substantially less than he earned in 1963 and 1964. Formerly of Park Forest, Ill., Breen is president and chief stockholder in the Diamond "B" Stable.

Police, Firemen Help Heart Ailment Victim

Police and firemen joined forces Thursday afternoon to aid a woman victim of a heart ailment who was found lying helpless inside her locked home in Klondyke.

Patrolman Charles Coen was dispatched at 2:24 after officers received a report that Sheba Collins, 58, of 2113 Harvey Ave. was lying on the floor of her home but could not be reached because all the doors and windows were locked. The report was given to police by her sister, Mable Collins of Oakmont.

The officer could see the woman lying on the floor. Unable to gain entry otherwise, he forced a door to get into the house. The sister said the woman recently had suffered a heart attack. She appeared to be in great pain, the officer said. He summoned an ambulance and asked East End firemen to bring a resuscitator. Mrs. Collins was admitted to City Hospital.

Undersecretary of State Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, the former attorney general, who was a law professor before he came to Washington, will become vice president and general counsel of IBM in New York.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has accepted the presidency of EDP Technology, Inc. in Washington.

Stewart L. Udall, secretary of Interior, plans to set up a law firm with offices in Washington and Phoenix. When asked, he doesn't deny he might run in 1970 for the U.S. Senate seat of Republican Paul J. Fannin.

The secretary of housing and urban development, Robert C. Weaver, becomes president on Jan. 1 of New York City's new Bernard Baruch College.

Wilbur J. Cohen, secretary of health, education and welfare, will return to the University of Michigan, where he taught public welfare until he joined the Kennedy administration in 1961.

Secretary of Commerce C. R. Smith, who was drafted by Johnson upon his retirement as president and board chairman of American Airlines, Inc., has only revealed that "I won't be around Washington on Jan. 20."

Other cabinet officers have said even less about their plans, but none are expected to need CARE packages.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, former law partner of the late Adlai Stevenson, has had a number of offers and probably will stay in Washington, but says he doesn't know what he will do.

Postmaster General Marvin Watson, Attorney General Ramsey Clark and Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd also say they don't know—or aren't talking.

One of Johnson's key men at the White House, special assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr., 37, will join the large and prestige-laden Washington law firm of Arnold and Porter.

But Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen of the Internal Revenue Service, 41, who quit Arnold and Porter to enter the government, plans to set up his own law firm.

White House press secretary George Christian plans to return to Austin for public relations work. Another press aide, Tom Johnson, expects to go right on working for Johnson, as executive assistant.

Betty Furness, presidential special assistant for consumer affairs, has had several offers to write columns and hasn't ruled out that possibility.

Liz Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Johnson, will write a book; it already has a publisher.

Presidential Assistant Walt W. Rostow and Mrs. Rostow will both teach at the University of Texas in Austin.

Rostow's brother, Eugene V. Rostow, undersecretary of state for political affairs, will return to Yale where he was dean and professor at its law school.

Six Are Treated At City Hospital

Harold Derenburger of 937 Denver St., an employe of the Hall China Co., suffered a laceration of the left fifth finger on a jiggering tool.

Susan Lynn Bland, daughter of Clarence Bland of Chester RD 1, a fractured left elbow in a fall.

322 Register To Date For Kent Quarter

More than 322 students registered this week for the winter quarter at the East Liverpool branch of Kent State University, with "late registration" open until Jan. 3.

Basing his comment on fall registration, Director Richard Q. King said Thursday that the winter quarter enrollment "looks very good." He pointed out that the original fall registration was 317, but mounted to 400 before the final deadline.

Those who did not register and pay fees Tuesday may still do so until Jan. 3. King explained that in addition to the fees there will be a late registration charge of $5.

The book store will be open on Jan. 3 from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., with books that were not available on Tuesday to be on the shelves then.

Ohioan, 46, Indicted In Income Tax Case

CHICAGO (AP)—William M. Breen, 46, of Felicity, Clermont County, Ohio, was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on charges of evading $26,761 in income taxes.

The indictment accuses Breen of reporting income substantially less than he earned in 1963 and 1964. Formerly of Park Forest, Ill., Breen is president and chief stockholder in the Diamond "B" Stable.

Police, Firemen Help Heart Ailment Victim

Police and firemen joined forces Thursday afternoon to aid a woman victim of a heart ailment who was found lying helpless inside her locked home in Klondyke.

Patrolman Charles Coen was dispatched at 2:24 after officers received a report that Sheba Collins, 58, of 2113 Harvey Ave. was lying on the floor of her home but could not be reached because all the doors and windows were locked. The report was given to police by her sister, Mable Collins of Oakmont.

The officer could see the woman lying on the floor. Unable to gain entry otherwise, he forced a door to get into the house. The sister said the woman recently had suffered a heart attack. She appeared to be in great pain, the officer said. He summoned an ambulance and asked East End firemen to bring a resuscitator. Mrs. Collins was admitted to City Hospital.

acting process that consumes the last 28 hours before launch.

Small problems cropped up and were overcome. A valve regulating the flow of liquid hydrogen, which mingles with liquid oxygen to produce electricity and drinking water for the spaceship, malfunctioned and had to be replaced, along with a leaky line.

Elated by the certainty that they will beat the Russian cosmonauts to a close-up rendezvous with the moon, the astronauts were scheduled to ride the gargantuan Saturn 5 rocket away from earth at 7:51 a.m. EST Saturday.

After two earth orbits to check out the spacecraft systems, they will restart the Saturn 5 third stage and propel themselves onto the 220,000-mile road to the moon.

After 10 revolutions of the moon at an altitude of 69 miles on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, a blast of the spacecraft engines hopefully will start then on the return trip to a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean Friday morning.

The first moment of peril comes when the engines of the Saturn 5 rocket, which has never before carried riders into space, are ignited. At this time, locked to its pad, the rocket is a potential time bomb, with the explosive power of more than a million pounds of TNT.

The theme, "Mistletoe and Moonlight," was carried out by a floral arch accented with colored lights at the entrance with silver throughout the lodge. The throne for the queen featured red velvet.

Miss Kay Beth Eaton, last year's queen, presented the crown to her successor. Miss Patti Crispino, a committee member, presented red roses to the queen.

The tables were centerd with red and green tapers, encircled with holly and pine. Music was provided by "The Hamiltons."

The committees in charge included Miss Crispino, Miss Patti Gewak, Miss Sarah Muslovski and Miss Tanya Tarowsky.

Tri-State Starts 5th Gas Well In Lisbon District

Drilling operations have been launched by the Tri - State Producing Co. of East Liverpool for a new gas well located on the Frank Murray farm on Route 172 in Center Township, west of Lisbon.

William Blair, president of the firm, announced that this is the fifth well the company has started since August. Two of the four drilled "have very excellent supplies of commercial gas," he said.

A well drilled almost directly across the road from the Murray farm on the Sell property struck gas at about 6,000 feet and again at 9,000 feet. Another well drilled on the J. & I. Lawrence property, also in Center Township about 2½ miles south of Route 172, excellent supply of gas at 6,000 feet, Blair said.

He added that the company plans an extensive drilling program for Columbiana County in 1969, and that other gas companies are now showing renewed interest in the area.

Santa and the HIPPIES

By LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER 17

It was Christmas eve. Only an hour remained to break the spell on Santa Land.

Ding Dong stood on the roof of Santa's workshop and carefully dropped the hippies' popcorn popper down the smoking chimney. When it was in place on the burning coals below Ding Dong began to drop kernels of corn, one by one, down the chimney into the popper.

For a moment there was no sound except Hesekiah chopping and swatting on his machine. Then, between the whacks of the hammer, Ding Dong heard the soft pop-pop-popping of the corn in the fireplace below.

HE DROPPED the corn faster and faster until it was pouring down the chimney in a river. Now, the hammer blows were silent. There was only the gentle popping of corn.

Edgar, the elf, scurried to the front of the shop and peeped through the keyhole.

"He's stopped working!" he cried. "The whole shop is filling with popcorn! It's covered his feet! Now his knees! His middle! His neck! He's drowning in popcorn!"

Ding Dong dumped the last of the corn down the chimney. He yelled, "Watch out! He'll be out in a minute!" And he slid to the ground to see the fun.

A moment later the dwarf flung open the door and burst out in a cloud of popcorn. His stumbling feet snapped the three-colored string stretched across the door frame.

The spell on Santa Land was broken. The spinning tops stopped spinning. Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus and all the elves and reindeer were themselves again.

"Merry Christmas to All!"

THERE WAS such rejoicing! Edgar told Santa all that Ding Dong had done and Santa asked what he could do for Ding Dong in return.

Ding Dong said he would like to go home again. "If only I didn't have to be good all the time!" he added with a sigh.

"Being good is just thinking of others," said Santa. "That is something you certainly have done."

"What about taking baths and being polite and picking up toys and all like that?"

"It isn't necessary," said Santa thoughtfully. "But you might say it is a way of thinking of other people."

"I suppose I could give it a try," said Ding Dong reluctantly.

"I don't think it would hurt much," said Santa with a smile. "It probably wouldn't hurt at all."

The elves loaded Santa's sleigh with toys and Mrs. Claus tucked in sacks of cookies. The reindeer were hitched to the sleigh and it was time to go.

SANTA climbed in with Ding Dong by his side and off they soared over the great sleeping world. When they came to Hippieville Santa leaned from the sleigh and dropped off an enormous bag of gifts for the hippies below.

The bag bulged with records and strange new musical instruments and magic color paints and weird clothes. Unknown to Santa, Mrs. Claus had slipped tooth brushes, combs and a dozen bars of soap in with all the rest.

The hippies — who never sleep when others sleep — heard the jingling bells of the sleigh and knew that all was well. They rushed into the street shouting joyfully, "Merry Christmas!"

Santa and Ding Dong, circling away, waved and called back, "Merry Christmas to all!"

Hijacker Apologizes In Cuba

151 On Hijacked Plane Are Flown Back To U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hijacker who said he had nitroglycerin forced an Eastern Airlines jet with 151 persons aboard to fly him to Cuba late Thursday. He apologized as he left the plane.

"I'm sorry, captain," the tall, slender hijacker said on arrival in Havana where six soldiers escorted him off the aircraft. "I wouldn't have hurt anybody."

It was the fifth consecutive week that an airliner had been hijacked to Cuba. Six commercial planes have been hijacked to Cuba during that time and 20 this year.

Capt. Orris F. Firth, 56, a veteran of 30 years with the airline, said he had no hesitancy about flying to Cuba when the man listed as "C. Washington" on a nonstop flight from Philadelphia to Miami handed a note to a stewardess to divert the plane.

"The threat was enough for me," Firth said after returning to Miami with hs crew of seven. "I had 142 (other) people on board."

"I was in the galley when this man came to me," said Uta B. Risse, 23-year-old German-born stewardess. "He asked what time we would get to Miami.

"He threw down a note and said, 'Tell the captain we won't get there. Tell him we're going.' "

Miss Risse said the man occupied a seat in the last row with his daughter, Jennifer, aged 2½.

"He had something in a bag and held it in his hand. He said it was a cap pistol," Miss Risse said. "I asked him to come to the cockpit. He said he wasn't moving. The note said he had a bottle of nitroglycerin."

Miss Risse said the hijacker never exposed the gun and she sat with an empty seat between them.

"He was shaking and once he cried and said he was doing it for his daughter," the stewardess said. "The girl was crying and I cried and she used some tissue I'd given her to wipe my tears."

Miss Risse said there were many teen-agers among her passengers and they were giggling and laughing.

"I wasn't scared," she said. "I was worried. He was very tall and slender, six-four or five, very nervous."

The 141 remaining passengers went by bus from Havana to Varandero and returned to Miami today aboard two Electra propjets flown to Cuba by Eastern.

The plane was loaded with family groups en route to Miami for the holidays.

Most said they were treated well in Cuba and many bought rum and cigars. Customs officials promptly confiscated the goods from the Communist island.

Beaver Local Receives More Aid In Programs

A check for $2,632 received this week by the Beaver Local School Disrtict has boosted to $34,632 funds to be used for teachers aides during the year and a complete summer program for kindergarten through grade 12. The federal funds have been made available under the Elementary - Secondary Education Act.

Supt. Roy Cashdollar said the money also will provide milk and snacks for the kindergarten.

Also received was $4,280, to be used on a matching basis, making a total of $8,560 available for video and other teaching aide equipment.

The Business Office Education vocational program received a reimbursement of $890 for office equipment and $759 was received under the rehabilitation program for care of handicapped children. These come under state programs.

Supt. Cashdollar also announced a change in policy by the board of education affecting teachers.

Teachers will be granted one and one quarter days of sick leave for each completed month of service (15 days per year) cumulative to 120 days. This increase from 90 to 120 days will become effective at the start of the 1969-70 school year.

The code also will be changed to cover all other full-time employes regularly appointed by the board.

The new provisions include: Three days personal leave each year without the loss of pay for "urgent obligations or emergencies" to full-time employes when requested subject to limitations as follows: Approval must be granted by the superintendent of schools; number of employes on leave at one time not to exceed five in the district or two from any one building; when possible, one weeks notice must be given the superintendent and never less than two days; personal leave is not cumulative.

Such leave not to be granted the day preceding or day following a holiday; such leave not to be used to extend sick leave or vacation; and to become effective with the 1969-70 school year.

Educational personnel attending workshops or conferences shall be paid 10 cents per mile and the cost of meals and lodging. State law requires a receipt be presented for reimbrusement for lodging, it was pointed out. This increase also will become effective during 1969-70. Attendence at a professional meeting must be approved by the superintendent.

It was Christmas eve. Only an hour remained to break the spell on Santa Land.

Ding Dong stood on the roof of Santa's workshop and carefully dropped the hippies' popcorn popper down the smoking chimney. When it was in place on the burning coals below Ding Dong began to drop kernels of corn, one by one, down the chimney into the popper.

For a moment there was no sound except Hesekiah chopping and swatting on his machine. Then, between the whacks of the hammer, Ding Dong heard the soft pop-pop-popping of the corn in the fireplace below.

HE DROPPED the corn faster and faster until it was pouring down the chimney in a river. Now, the hammer blows were silent. There was only the gentle popping of corn.

Edgar, the elf, scurried to the front of the shop and peeped through the keyhole.

"He's stopped working!" he cried. "The whole shop is filling with popcorn! It's covered his feet! Now his knees! His middle! His neck! He's drowning in popcorn!"

Ding Dong dumped the last of the corn down the chimney. He yelled, "Watch out! He'll be out in a minute!" And he slid to the ground to see the fun.

A moment later the dwarf flung open the door and burst out in a cloud of popcorn. His stumbling feet snapped the three-colored string stretched across the door frame.

The spell on Santa Land was broken. The spinning tops stopped spinning. Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus and all the elves and reindeer were themselves again.

THERE WAS such rejoicing! Edgar told Santa all that Ding Dong had done and Santa asked what he could do for Ding Dong in return.

Ding Dong said he would like to go home again. "If only I didn't have to be good all the time!" he added with a sigh.

"Being good is just thinking of others," said Santa. "That is something you certainly have done."

"What about taking baths and being polite and picking up toys and all like that?"

"It isn't necessary," said Santa thoughtfully. "But you might say it is a way of thinking of other people."

"I suppose I could give it a try," said Ding Dong reluctantly.

"I don't think it would hurt much," said Santa with a smile. "It probably wouldn't hurt at all."

The elves loaded Santa's sleigh with toys and Mrs. Claus tucked in sacks of cookies. The reindeer were hitched to the sleigh and it was time to go.

SANTA climbed in with Ding Dong by his side and off they soared over the great sleeping world. When they came to Hippieville Santa leaned from the sleigh and dropped off an enormous bag of gifts for the hippies below.

The bag bulged with records and strange new musical instruments and magic color paints and weird clothes. Unknown to Santa, Mrs. Claus had slipped tooth brushes, combs and a dozen bars of soap in with all the rest.

The hippies — who never sleep when others sleep — heard the jingling bells of the sleigh and knew that all was well. They rushed into the street shouting joyfully, "Merry Christmas!"

Santa and Ding Dong, circling away, waved and called back, "Merry Christmas to all!"

Hijacker Apologizes In Cuba

151 On Hijacked Plane Are Flown Back To U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hijacker who said he had nitroglycerin forced an Eastern Airlines jet with 151 persons aboard to fly him to Cuba late Thursday. He apologized as he left the plane.

"I'm sorry, captain," the tall, slender hijacker said on arrival in Havana where six soldiers escorted him off the aircraft. "I wouldn't have hurt anybody."

It was the fifth consecutive week that an airliner had been hijacked to Cuba. Six commercial planes have been hijacked to Cuba during that time and 20 this year.

Capt. Orris F. Firth, 56, a veteran of 30 years with the airline, said he had no hesitancy about flying to Cuba when the man listed as "C. Washington" on a nonstop flight from Philadelphia to Miami handed a note to a stewardess to divert the plane.

"The threat was enough for me," Firth said after returning to Miami with hs crew of seven. "I had 142 (other) people on board."

"I was in the galley when this man came to me," said Uta B. Risse, 23-year-old German-born stewardess. "He asked what time we would get to Miami.

"He threw down a note and said, 'Tell the captain we won't get there. Tell him we're going.' "

Miss Risse said the man occupied a seat in the last row with his daughter, Jennifer, aged 2½.

"He had something in a bag and held it in his hand. He said it was a cap pistol," Miss Risse said. "I asked him to come to the cockpit. He said he wasn't moving. The note said he had a bottle of nitroglycerin."

Miss Risse said the hijacker never exposed the gun and she sat with an empty seat between them.

"He was shaking and once he cried and said he was doing it for his daughter," the stewardess said. "The girl was crying and I cried and she used some tissue I'd given her to wipe my tears."

Miss Risse said there were many teen-agers among her passengers and they were giggling and laughing.

"I wasn't scared," she said. "I was worried. He was very tall and slender, six-four or five, very nervous."

The 141 remaining passengers went by bus from Havana to Varandero and returned to Miami today aboard two Electra propjets flown to Cuba by Eastern.

The plane was loaded with family groups en route to Miami for the holidays.

Most said they were treated well in Cuba and many bought rum and cigars. Customs officials promptly confiscated the goods from the Communist island.

Beaver Local Receives More Aid In Programs

A check for $2,632 received this week by the Beaver Local School Disrtict has boosted to $34,632 funds to be used for teachers aides during the year and a complete summer program for kindergarten through grade 12. The federal funds have been made available under the Elementary - Secondary Education Act.

Supt. Roy Cashdollar said the money also will provide milk and snacks for the kindergarten.

Also received was $4,280, to be used on a matching basis, making a total of $8,560 available for video and other teaching aide equipment.

The Business Office Education vocational program received a reimbursement of $890 for office equipment and $759 was received under the rehabilitation program for care of handicapped children. These come under state programs.

Supt. Cashdollar also announced a change in policy by the board of education affecting teachers.

Teachers will be granted one and one quarter days of sick leave for each completed month of service (15 days per year) cumulative to 120 days. This increase from 90 to 120 days will become effective at the start of the 1969-70 school year.

The code also will be changed to cover all other full-time employes regularly appointed by the board.

The new provisions include: Three days personal leave each year without the loss of pay for "urgent obligations or emergencies" to full-time employes when requested subject to limitations as follows: Approval must be granted by the superintendent of schools; number of employes on leave at one time not to exceed five in the district or two from any one building; when possible, one weeks notice must be given the superintendent and never less than two days; personal leave is not cumulative.

Such leave not to be granted the day preceding or day following a holiday; such leave not to be used to extend sick leave or vacation; and to become effective with the 1969-70 school year.

Educational personnel attending workshops or conferences shall be paid 10 cents per mile and the cost of meals and lodging. State law requires a receipt be presented for reimbrusement for lodging, it was pointed out. This increase also will become effective during 1969-70. Attendence at a professional meeting must be approved by the superintendent.

Program Presented For PTA At Midland

The third grade of Midland 1st St. School presented a Christmas program during a meeting of the Parent - Teacher Association Thursday afternoon.

The plays, recitations and group singing were directed by Mrs. Irene Steinacker, teacher. Ronald Alberta, elementary principal, was a guest.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Carlos Adkins and Mrs. Victor Gutierrez. Cookies were donated by third-grade homeroom mothers.

Mrs. Newton Wildman, vice president, presided. The next meeting will be Jan. 16.

Norman Thomas Dies; Was Veteran Socialist

HUNTINGTON, N. Y. (AP) — Norman Thomas, the old Socialist who forged a notable career in the rough-and-tumble arena of political dissent, died Thursday in a Long Island nursing home. He was 84.

Thomas ran six times as Socialist Party candidate for president between 1928 and 1948. He also was twice a candidate for mayor of New York, and twice tried for the governorship in Albany.

—:—

HE NEVER won an election, and never really expected to. He once said: "I was trying to bring about a realistic political reallignment based on principle."

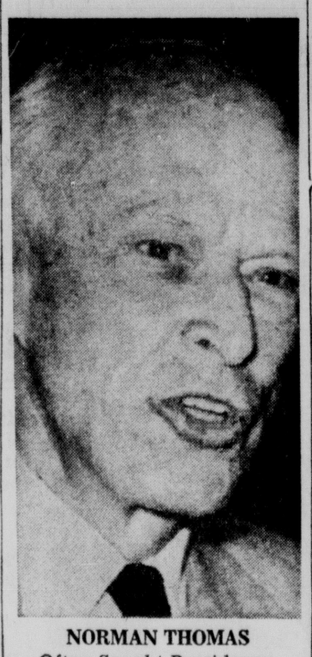

To a degree, Thomas succeeded and lived to see a nation wherein his once radical ideas came in part to be accepted. But still he looked ahead, toward new goals, especially that of universal peace among mankind. He had been a pacifist most of his life, beginning when he was a young clergyman.

If every one of Thomas' admirers had backed him politically, he might have gone much further in his quest for political office.

For example, James A. Farley, the master politician behind the election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, once declared of Thomas: "I have not always agreed with him, but I have never stopped admiring his intellectual honesty. We would be better off with more Americans like him."

PRESIDENT Johnson was the last of the many chief executives to come beneath the lash of Thomas' tongue. But in Bethesda Naval Hospital, recuperating from the flu, Johnson said that in the death of Thomas, "America loses one of its most eloquent speakers, finest writers and most creative thinkers."

NORMAN THOMAS

"Norman Thomas kept the faith," Johnson added in his statement. "He was a humane, courageous man who lived to see many of the causes he championed become the law of the land."

Thomas began his career as a Presbyterian minister, but Socialism lured him from the pulpit. He explained: "I had the idea that there were a lot of things wrong."

He succeeded Eugene V. Debs in 1926 as leader of the Socialist Party and held the reins until 1952, when his proposal to stay out of the presidential campaign that year was voted down at the party's national convention.

Thomas continued to preach Socialism. But in the final years of his life, he gave up world travel because "it's too much embarrassment ot drop dead abroad."

Store Money Stolen From Seat Of Auto

The manager of the Vittle Village food store in LaCroft early today reported the theft of a money bag containing Thursday's receipts — "several hundred dollars."

Gene Stockdale of 814 Lang St., East Liverpool, told officers the money bag was in a sack of groceries on the front seat of his car and was taken while he was changing a tire in front of the store on Route 267.

The manager gave the details to Constable Fred Fryman of LaCroft and Shriff's Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman. The theft occurred about 12:15 a.m. in the parking area. Officers said the lot was well lighted.

Stockdale said he had closed the store and discovered the flat right front tire as he prepared to leave to put the money in a bank.

He said the driver's side door was open while he worked on the tire. He heard footsteps, he said, and raised to see a young man run away from the other side of the car. He said the thief was tall and wore dark clothing.

Choir Fete Held At Beaver Local

Some 350 attended a Christmas concert presented by Beaver Local High School and elementary choral groups Thursday night at the high school auditorium.

A collection was taken for the benefit of the Clyde McVay family, whose Lisbon RD 4 area home was burned Tuesday with the loss of three children. The collection totaled $178.

Robert Sprague, high school director, was master of ceremonies. Miss Sharon Bell directed the elementary groups and John Hubert the instrumental ensembles.

Republic Steel Plans Waste Water Plant

Norman Thomas Dies; Was Veteran Socialist

HUNTINGTON, N. Y. (AP) — Norman Thomas, the old Socialist who forged a notable career in the rough-and-tumble arena of political dissent, died Thursday in a Long Island nursing home. He was 84.
Thomas ran six times as Socialist Party candidate for president between 1928 and 1948. He also was twice a candidate for mayor of New York, and twice tried for the governorship in Albany.

HE NEVER won an election, and never really expected to. He once said: "I was trying to bring about a realistic political reallignment based on principle."
To a degree, Thomas succeeded and lived to see a nation wherein his once radical ideas came in part to be accepted. But still he looked ahead, toward new goals, especially that of universal peace among mankind. He had been a pacifist most of his life, beginning when he was a young clergyman.
If every one of Thomas' admirers had backed him politically, he might have gone much further in his quest for political office.
For example, James A. Farley, the master politician behind the election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, once declared of Thomas: "I have not always agreed with him, but I have never stopped admiring his intellectual honesty. We would be better off with more Americans like him."

PRESIDENT Johnson was the last of the many chief executives to come beneath the lash of Thomas' tongue. But in Bethesda Naval Hospital, recuperating from the flu, Johnson said that in the death of Thomas, "America loses one of its most eloquent speakers, finest writers and most creative thinkers."
"Norman Thomas kept the faith," Johnson added in his statement. "He was a humane, courageous man who lived to see many of the causes he championed become the law of the land."
Thomas began his career as a Presbyterian minister, but Socialism lured him from the pulpit. He explained: "I had the idea that there were a lot of things wrong."
He succeeded Eugene V. Debs in 1926 as leader of the Socialist Party and held the reins until 1952, when his proposal to stay out of the presidential campaign that year was voted down at the party's national convention.
Thomas continued to preach Socialism. But in the final years of his life, he gave up world travel because "it's too much embarrassment ot drop dead abroad."

Store Money Stolen From Seat Of Auto

The manager of the Vittle Village food store in LaCroft early today reported the theft of a money bag containing Thursday's receipts — "several hundred dollars."
Gene Stockdale of 814 Lang St., East Liverpool, told officers the money bag was in a sack of groceries on the front seat of his car and was taken while he was changing a tire in front of the store on Route 267.
The manager gave the details to Constable Fred Fryman of LaCroft and Shriff's Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman. The theft occurred about 12:15 a.m. in the parking area. Officers said the lot was well lighted.
Stockdale said he had closed the store and discovered the flat right front tire as he prepared to leave to put the money in a bank.
He said the driver's side door was open while he worked on the tire. He heard footsteps, he said, and raised to see a young man run away from the other side of the car. He said the thief was tall and wore dark clothing.

Choir Fete Held At Beaver Local

Some 350 attended a Christmas concert presented by Beaver Local High School and elementary choral groups Thursday night at the high school auditorium.
A collection was taken for the benefit of the Clyde McVay family, whose Lisbon RD 4 area home was burned Tuesday with the loss of three children. The collection totaled $178.
Robert Sprague, high school director, was master of ceremonies. Miss Sharon Bell directed the elementary groups and John Hubert the instrumental ensembles.

Old Christmas Warning

Lump Of Dirty, Old Coal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —"Tell me what Christmas was like in the old days, Daddy, when you were a little boy."

"Did you hang up your stocking like kids do now?"

Oh yes, indeed, and we were terribly afraid of what we might find in it.

"What was that?"

A lump of coal. We were told that if we had been bad all that Santa Claus would leave in our stocking would be a lump of dirty coal.

"What did Santa Claus leave in your stocking."

Oh, nuts and figs and red-striped candy and apples and——the nicest surprise of all—a big golden orange.

"What's so wonderful about getting an orange?"

Well, in those days oranges didn't seem to be so plentiful. Except for Christmas, about the only time we saw an orange was when we got a stomach ache. Then we'd have to take caster oil, and they'd squeee some orange juice in it so it wouldn't taste quite so awful.

"Did you have Christmas trees in those days?"

Oh, yes. But we didn't have so many store-bought decorations. We did most of the decorating ourselves. We'd cut out little angels and make a star out of tinfoil to put on top of the tree, and we wound the tree with homemade necklaces of cranberries and popcorn sewn on long threads.

"My, that sounds like fun. We ought to do that now sometime What restaurant did you go to for Christmas dinner."

We ate at home always. It would take mother days to fix the meal—getting everything ready.

"Didn't that make her tired?"

It sure did, but she liked the excitement. Each year she'd say, "never again," but each year she'd insist on doing it all over again. She said she'd feel funny eating Christmas dinner anywhere except in her own house.

"Did you get many presents?"

Not usually. Each of us boys got a sweater, or a pair of mittens. Then there would be one big present—a sled or a wagon —that we all had to share.

"I don't think that would be much fun, having to share presents. I'd rather have my own presents."

I guess we would have liked it better, too. But Santa Claus wasn't so rich then. He didn't have a credit card. Well, I've told you what Christmas was like in the old days when I was a little boy. What do you think of it?

"Well, I don't think I'd better say, Daddy."

Why not?

"Well, I'm afraid if I tell you the truth I'll wake up on Christmas morning and find a lump of coal in my stocking."

Board Grants Emergency Requests

5 Ohio Universities Get Additional $2,507,250

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board responded Thursday to emergency requests from five state universities and granted them $2,507,250 in additional operating funds.

Ohio State received $800,000, Kent State $200,000, University of Toledo $600,000, Wright State University $237,250 and Youngstown University $670,000.

Dr. John Millett, chancellor of the Board of Regents, said higher enrollments necessitated the emergency request. State universities' subsidies are based on total full-time enrollment and, Millett explained, enrollments at the five schools were higher than anticipated.

Millett told the board that operations of the five schools would be seriously endangered without additional financial assistance.

On the other hand, enrollments at two other schools, Miami and Ohio University, were lower than expected. The "extra" subsidy they got was transferred by the Controlling Board to Ohio State, $233,000, and Bowling Green, $600,000.

The board also released $1,125,000 to the new Medical College of Ohio at Toledo for the purchase of equipment and library books.

The State Department of Education won approval of a $5,948 request to assist the Youngstown School System in paying for the transportation of nonpublic school pupils. Youngstown city schools are currently closed because of lack of money.

The Controlling Board approved a $2 million request from the Department of Health to build new laboratory facilities at Ohio State.

Other requests approved by the board included:

Department of Agriculture, $18,120 to fund the Migrant Rest Center in Henry County through next June 30.

University of Cincinnati, $528,935 to expand its central utilities system to provide electricity, heat and air conditioning to its new science and engineering center.

Department of Education, $15,000 to expand $109,539 study being made on sexual education, abusive use of alcohol, drugs and tobacco and violence in schools.

Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, $125,416 for preliminary work on a new wing and remodeling of a dormitory at its Junction City Treatment Center in Perry County. The former Junction City prison branch is being converted into a facility for psychiatric treatment of criminals.

Department of Highways, $170,837 to contract with Ohio State University for extension of a research project on automatically controlled vehicles.

Department of Natural Resources, $718,000 for purchasing land for further development of the Auglaize - Maumee rivers park system between Defiance and Toledo.

Natural Resources also received $265,000 for clearing land, building drainage systems and constructing a pond at Mosquito Creek Wildlife Area in Trumbull County.

Mental Tests Slated For Accused Slayer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Allen W. Kidd, 26, of Huron, Ohio, charged with first-degree murder, Thursday was found innocent by reason of insanity. The court said Kidd would be sent to a state hospital for mental tests.

Kidd was accused of shooting Sgt. Stephen Lane, 26, on Dec. 20, 1967, at the apartment of Kidd's wife. Kidd said he found his wife in bed with the man and did not recall what happened after that.

Fines Of $25 Given To Pair

Two men were fined $25 and costs each on alleged traffic violations today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

John E. Myler, 20, of RD 2 drew the penalty on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Dec. 13 at 5:10 p.m. on Route 7.

Robert M. Melott of Liberty Ave., Chester, was fined $25 on a charge of driving at speeds unreasonable for conditions. Melott was arraigned on an old affidavit which had been pending since April 13 as the result of a Dresden Ave. traffic mishap.

Melott was fined $5 and costs Thursday in County Judge Barry Dickson's court at East Palestine on a charge of operating an auto without a muffler. Both the fine and costs were suspended and he was surrendered to East Liverpool authorities.

Melott was given a suspended 30-day County Jail term in Municipal Court Tuesday on a charge of failure to support four chidren and his pregnant wife. A count of operating an auto with counterfeit plates still is pending against him in the local court.

Robert L. Heiney, 23, of 1021 St. George St. was fined $20 and costs today on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Tuesday at 6:55 p.m. on Route 7.

Samuel T. Abdalla, 31, of Stratton forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of driving 77 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Nov. 26 at 11:55 a.m.

The court issued a bench warrant for the arrest of Ernest L. Pugh, 20, of McDonald, who failed to appear on a charge of operating an auto with a noisy muffler. He was cited Thursday at 1:43 a. m. on Dresden Ave

Today's session marked the start of a week's holiday vacation for the judge. He and his wife left for a visit with their daughter and son-in-law on Long Island. Robert A. Kapp will be acting judge next week. Chertoff is due to return Dec. 30.

$100,000 Fund Discussed

Applegate Promises Help On City Museum Project

State Sen.-elect Douglas Applegate of Steubenville promised East Liverpool civic leaders Thursday afternoon he will give his "full support" to any legislative move to release a promised $100,000 to help establish an Ohio Pottery Museum here, probably in the former post office building at E. 5th St. and Broadway.

Applegate, named in November to succeed John Longsworth of Salem as this district's representative in the upper house of the General Assembly, met with the local group in Mayor George E. Willshaw's office at City Hall.

H. B. Barth, curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society's Museum in the Carnegie Public Library, and Planning Coordinator Don Eckert acted as the principal spokesmen.

BARTH pointed out that Gov. James A. Rhodes adopted a suggestion from the Ohio Historical Society for establishment of an Ohio Pottery Museum in East Liverpool and promistd that $100,000 would be made available for the project when voters approved a bond issue in the November general election. Barth explained the local group is interested in shepherding the enabling legislation for the funds through the state legislature and then obtaining its release by the Ohio Controlling Board, which has the final say on allocation of money.

He added that for about two years local groups have had their eye on the former post office as the proper site for such a museum. Plans contemplate some sort of combination of the local historical society's exhibits with the state museum. But the local group must retain title to its exhibits, as many are on loan from private individuals.

Applegate said he can foresee no difficulty in the state or the city obtaining title to the former post office, as the federal governments "goes out of its way to be helpful to local civic and cultural endeavors," he said. Barth agreed and said the society hopes the deed to the property will pass to the state society, he state government or the local society from the federal government. The aid of Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, already has been pledged in this phase of the project, he added.

"You have my full support in getting the money," Applegate told the local group after hearing an explanation of the project. "There's no problem; the amount was anticipated when the bond issue was proposed."

ECKERT replied that $100,000 was "specifically earmarked" at the time the bond issue was proposed and Applegate replied that legislation will be required to implement the allocation of the money.

In discussing the operation of the museum if it's established in the former post office, Barth and Eckert indicated they would expect the state to assume maintenance, operation and payroll expenses.

The cost of remodeling the building to house a museum has been estimated at $50,000, Barth said. It contains about 5,400 square feet of floor space, exclusive of the basement, compared with about 4,000 feet in the upper floor of the library, he added. The East Liverpool Historical Society exhibits contain 5,000 "pieces of ware dating from the earliest periods here to the present," Barth said. He added $10,000, all in private funds, has been expended on the present museum.

The group told Applegate State Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel also will be asked to support allocation of the $100,000 to establish the museum and that Rep. Hays will be asked to use his good offices in Washington to assure that the post office building is turned over for use of the Ohio Pottery Museum.

George A. Shaw, representing the Chamber of Commerce, said the new museum will help encourage tourism here and boost the area economy. Barth said 15,000 tourists have visited the present museum in recent years.

Also attending the meeting were James Grafton of the City Planning Commission; Joseph W. C. Cooper, former city solicitor; Dalle Thompson, Charles Thomas and Richard O. Wilson of the Historical Society; Frank Dales, vice president of the IBOP, and Councilman Donal I. Burcham.

Bow Part Of Largest Lakes Ship Due Float

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — The partially completed bow section of the largest ship ever built completely on the Great Lakes will be floated out of dry dock here Saturday at the American Ship Building Co.

The ore-carrying ship is being built for the U. S. Steel Corp. and will cost $20 million. It will be 858 feet long, 128 feet longer and 30 feet wider than the largest ship now in service on the Great Lakes.

To Open Interstate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ceremonies were planned today to open 25 miles of Interstate 77 in northern Washington County. The stretch runs between Macksburg to Ohio 313 south of Cambridge.

Motorist Fined On Headlight, Glasses Charges

A city motorist, arrested by officers for driving with improperly coated headlights and without required glasses, was fined and jailed by County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine Thursday.

Joseph W. Sellers of 212 McKee St. was fined $25 and costs on the headlight charge filed by officers who said the lenses were coated and did not focus properly. The officers learned when they halted him he was not wearing glasses as required his restricted license, and he was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to four days in jail for this violation.

James R. Higgins of Negley RD 1 forfeited a $50 bond, and William Nixon of 603 Commerce St., Wellsville, forfeited a $30 bond on speeding charges.

Man On Probation Convicted Of Murder

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland man on probation for carrying a concealed weapon was convicted of first-degree murder Thursday night by a Common Pleas Court jury.

William Paneto, 22, received a recommendation of mercy from the jury, making a sentence of life imprisonment mandatory.

Judge Harry T. Marshall handed down that sentence after the verdict was read.

Paneto was one of two men charged in the bar room slaying of Fred Conn, 21, a porter at a downtown tavern. The other man, 22-year-old Andres Barriero, is awaiting trial.

O'Hare International Airport in Chicago is the world's busiest commercial air terminal.

Natural Resources also received $265,000 for clearing land, building drainage systems and constructing a pond at Mosquito Creek Wildlife Area in Trumbull County.

Mental Tests Slated For Accused Slayer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Allen W. Kidd, 26, of Huron, Ohio, charged with first-degree murder, Thursday was found innocent by reason of insanity. The court said Kidd would be sent to a state hospital for mental tests.

Kidd was accused of shooting Sgt. Stephen Lane, 26, on Dec. 20, 1967, at the apartment of Kidd's wife. Kidd said he found his wife in bed with the man and did not recall what happened after that.

Fines Of $25 Given To Pair

Two men were fined $25 and costs each on alleged traffic violations today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

John E. Myler, 20, of RD 2 drew the penalty on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Dec. 13 at 5:10 p.m. on Route 7.

Robert M. Melott of Liberty Ave., Chester, was fined $25 on a charge of driving at speeds unreasonable for conditions. Melott was arraigned on an old affidavit which had been pending since April 13 as the result of a Dresden Ave. traffic mishap.

Melott was fined $5 and costs Thursday in County Judge Barry Dickson's court at East Palestine on a charge of operating an auto without a muffler. Both the fine and costs were suspended and he was surrendered to East Liverpool authorities.

Melott was given a suspended 30-day County Jail term in Municipal Court Tuesday on a charge of failure to support four chidren and his pregnant wife. A count of operating an auto with counterfeit plates still is pending against him in the local court.

Robert L. Heiney, 23, of 1021 St. George St. was fined $20 and costs today on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Tuesday at 6:55 p.m. on Route 7.

Samuel T. Abdalla, 31, of Stratton forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of driving 77 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Nov. 26 at 11:55 a.m.

The court issued a bench warrant for the arrest of Ernest L. Pugh, 20, of McDonald, who failed to appear on a charge of operating an auto with a noisy muffler. He was cited Thursday at 1:43 a. m. on Dresden Ave

Today's session marked the start of a week's holiday vacation for the judge. He and his wife left for a visit with their daughter and son-in-law on Long Island. Robert A. Kapp will be acting judge next week. Chertoff is due to return Dec. 30.

Applegate Promises Help On City Museum Project

State Sen.-elect Douglas Applegate of Steubenville promised East Liverpool civic leaders Thursday afternoon he will give his "full support" to any legislative move to release a promised $100,000 to help establish an Ohio Pottery Museum here, probably in the former post office building at E. 5th St. and Broadway.

Applegate, named in November to succeed John Longsworth of Salem as this district's representative in the upper house of the General Assembly, met with the local group in Mayor George E. Willshaw's office at City Hall.

H. B. Barth, curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society's Museum in the Carnegie Public Library, and Planning Coordinator Don Eckert acted as the principal spokesmen.

BARTH pointed out that Gov. James A. Rhodes adopted a suggestion from the Ohio Historical Society for establishment of an Ohio Pottery Museum in East Liverpool and promistd that $100,000 would be made available for the project when voters approved. a bond issue in the November general election. Barth explained the local group is interested in shepherding the enabling legislation for the funds through the state legislature and then obtaining its release by the Ohio Controlling Board, which has the final say on allocation of money.

He added that for about two years local groups have had their eye on the former post office as the proper site for such a museum. Plans contemplate some sort of combination of the local historical society's exhibits with the state museum. But the local group must retain title to its exhibits, as many are on loan from private individuals.

Applegate said he can foresee no difficulty in the state or the city obtaining title to the former post office, as the federal governments "goes out of its way to be helpful to local civic and cultural endeavors," he said. Barth agreed and said the society hopes the deed to the property will pass to the state society, he state government or the local society from the federal government. The aid of Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, already has been pledged in this phase of the project, he added.

"You have my full support in getting the money," Applegate told the local group after hearing an explanation of the project. "There's no problem; the amount was anticipated when the bond issue was proposed."

ECKERT replied that $100,000 was "specifically earmarked" at the time the bond issue was proposed and Applegate replied that legislation will be required to implement the allocation of the money.

In discussing the operation of the museum if it's established in the former post office, Barth and Eckert indicated they would expect the state to assume maintenance, operation and payroll expenses.

The cost of remodeling the building to house a museum has been estimated at $50,000, Barth said. It contains about 5,400 square feet of floor space, exclusive of the basement, compared with about 4,000 feet in the upper floor of the library, he added. The East Liverpool Historical Society exhibits contain 5,000 "pieces of ware dating from the earliest periods here to the present," Barth said. He added $10,000, all in private funds, has been expended on the present museum.

The group told Applegate State Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel also will be asked to support allocation of the $100,000 to establish the museum and that Rep. Hays will be asked to use his good offices in Washington to assure that the post office building is turned over for use of the Ohio Pottery Museum.

George A. Shaw, representing the Chamber of Commerce, said the new museum will help encourage tourism here and boost the area economy. Barth said 15,000 tourists have visited the present museum in recent years.

Also attending the meeting were James Grafton of the City Planning Commission; Joseph W. C. Cooper, former city solicitor; Dale Thompson, Charles Thomas and Richard O. Wilson of the Historical Society; Frank Dales, vice president of the IBOP, and Councilman Donal I. Burcham.

Motorist Fined On Headlight, Glasses Charges

A city motorist, arrested by officers for driving with improperly coated headlights and without required glasses, was fined and jailed by County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine Thursday.

Joseph W. Sellers of 212 McKee St. was fined $25 and costs on the headlight charge filed by officers who said the lenses were coated and did not focus properly. The officers learned when they halted him he was not wearing glasses as required his restricted license, and he was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to four days in jail for this violation.

James R. Higgins of Negley RD 1 forfeited a $50 bond, and William Nixon of 603 Commerce St., Wellsville, forfeited a $30 bond on speeding charges.

Man On Probation Convicted Of Murder

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland man on probation for carrying a concealed weapon was convicted of first-degree murder Thursday night by a Common Pleas Court jury.

William Paneto, 22, received a recommendation of mercy from the jury, making a sentence of life imprisonment mandatory.

Judge Harry T. Marshall handed down that sentence after the verdict was read.

Shares Sold Only To Foreigners

2-Year-Old Mutual Fund Large Real Estate Owner

NEW YORK (AP) — Rapidly becoming one of the larger real estate owners in America is a two-year-old mutual fund whose shares are sold only to foreigners.

Money from the enterprise, called the United States Investment Fund, already has been used to buy well over $100 million of income properties, including buildings here and in Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles and St. Louis.

Week after week the real estate pages of newspapers list additional purchases. Among the more recent: he $17-million Ling-Temco-Vough building in Dallas, and the old J.C. Penney building here.

Operators of the fund expect its total of U.S. real estate holdings will approach $160 million by the end of the year, and predict that 1969 purchases will average $30 million a month.

The huge financial transactions of the young fund have, in fact, already shown up in Treasury Department records as a plus for the balance of payments. European money, fearful of devaluation, inflation and political upheaval is partly responsible for the influx.

The fund is managed by Great American Securities & Research Corp., from offices in the Bahamas, where investors are free of real estate and capital gains taxes, but it operates in 50 nations.

The origin of the fund is almost as interesting as its growth. Keith Barish, a 25-year-old Miami financial whiz, founded the fund with the aid of several former members of the Kennedy administration.

"We knew the concept would be successful," said Barish recently, "but not to this extent."

Barish now is president of the management company, called GRAMCO for short, and Rafael Navarro, a pre-Castro Cuban ambassador to the United Nations, presides over the sales company now spreading throughout the world.

Pierre Salinger, former Kennedy press secretary and one of the original investors in the operations, has severed some other business ties to open new territories from an office in Paris, where he will live for at least a year.

The fund, which has 7,000 shareholders, attributes much of its appeal to what it considers an almost foolproof hedge against inflation. American real estate, Barish says, offers a higher return than banks and less risk thn stocks.

Although the fund is the only foreign mutual fund investing solely in real estate, its early success is believed partly responsible for the growth of what are called offshore mutual funds, or funds which sell only to foreigners.

So rapid has been the expansion that Barish maintains one of the major problems is to find good investment properties. A subsidiary, American Properties Management Ltd., has been formed in Miami to seek and manage acquisitions.

Said Barish, "Most of the properties we buy are not for sale. Signs don't go up in front of quality high-rise office and apartment buildings and shopping centers. They must be sought out."

He claims that $100 million in real estate is viewed each month in order to profitably invest the flood of money coming into the fund, which he says has a cash flow of $10 million a month.

"We generally like to have at least $1 million cash equity in purchases," he said. "Occasionally we invest only $500,000, but the trend lately is to the bigger deal."

The investment concept is to deal only with prime income producing properties. Underdeveloped land and new buildings are avoided. "Only buildings with a past history are considered," says Barish.

Reflecting the income from properties already purchased, the per share value of the fund has grown more than 20 per cent since its inception.

Council And FOP Reach Settlement At Bellefontaine

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — City Council and the Fraternal Order of Police reached an agreement Thursday night to end a six-day unofficial strike by the city's 12 policemen.

The agreement, in effect, provides for salary negotiations between the city and the police for the first time.

Attorney James R. Gosley, who represents FOB Lodge 60, said the police officers agreed to accept a $50-a-month salary increase effective Jan. 1.

In addition, a joint committee made up of councilmen and police representatives will conduct a study of salaries, fringe benefits, city finances, etc., with recommendations of the committee to be implemented on July 1, 1969. He said any salary increases agreed upon by the committee will be projected through 1970.

Gosley said the police officers agreed to return to their jobs Friday morning.

The policemen began their walkout Saturday by calling in sick, and have not returned since then. Police Chief Donald Woodruff and radio dispatchers have been the only ones on duty during the period.

'Pork Queen' Chosen For Northeast Ohio

WOOSTER — Phyllis Pew, 19-year-old blonde coed from a Coshocton livestock farm, will represent northeast Ohio in the Ohio pork queen contest Dec. 27 at Ohio State University.

The Northeast Ohio Pork Producers Council selected Phyllis to compete against the queens from eight other pork council districts for state pork queen honors.

The district queen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pew, produce nearly 700 Hampshire and Yorkshire hogs annually on their 450-acre farm. Phyllis is a sophomore at the Newark branch of OSU. She is training to teach menally - retarded youngsters.

First Since Ike's Administration

LBJ Sees Budget Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the federal budget will show a surplus for the current fiscal year, the first time since the Eisenhower administration that the government's books will be written in black ink.

And there will be more money on hand than spent in fiscal 1970 as well, the President indicated Thursday in a brief statement from Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is recovering from the flu.

The President said the effect of a surplus should help ease the problem of inflation now troubling the nation's economy. "It is needed to curb excessive pressures on demand," the statement said.

Although the President's statement didn't say how much of a surplus is expected for this year, sources indicated it would be in the neighborhood of $1 billion.

This compared with Johnson's original budget projection issued last January of an $8 billion dollar deficit for the 1969 fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

The President's estimate was cut steadily during the year and in November government officials said the deficit probably would be $3 billion.

Budget Director Charles J Zwick, commenting on Johnson's announcement, said that federal expenditures are now expected to match a government estimate issued in September of about $184.4 billion, or $1.7 billion less than the original January figures.

Since the administration expects to have a $1 billion surplus, tax receipts should run about $185.4 billion, or $6 billion higher than the September forecast.

The last time the budget showed a surplus was in fiscal 1960 when the government books showed $213 million more taken in than spent.

Speaking of the 1970 fiscal budget, Johnson said that "I hope it will be possible to submit a budget in January which will continue this small surplus.

For fiscal 1970, which will be the first full year for President-elect Nixon to work at controlling the economy, President Johnson is expected to submit a budget of between $195 billion and $200 billion.

Officials figure, on the basis of this estimate, that the Johnson administration expects Nixon to continue the 10 per cent income tax surcharge. This, along with a general business boom, is given much of the credit for producing the extra money that resulted in the predicted current surplus.

Whether Nixon wants to extend the surtax is unknown. He has made little comment on the matter since winning election last November. However, Nixon's commerce secretary, Maurice Stans, said Thursday it is his personal hope that the surcharge can be cut in half by mid-1969 and eliminattd entirely a year later.

If this reflects Nixon's mood, it could cause him some trouble. Republicans generally put a lot of stock in the importance of a balanced budget, or one that shows a surplus.

If the surtax is what has made a surplus possible, it would be difficult for the Republican administration to explain a tax elimination that could cause a deficit.

Playrites Await Performances Of Christmas Carol

The play will be presented Saturday at 3 and 7 p.m. and Sunday at 7 p.m.

James Graham, president of the Playrites, reminded that Sunday is "Paul McCraw Day," with all proceeds to be donated to the 9-year-old East Liverpool boy hospitalized at Pittsburgh with a rare disease.

In addition, Graham, in his role as "Scrooge," will present a gift to Paul Monday afternoon at Children's Hospital on behalf of the Playrites.

This is the fifth play, but only the first juvenile - oriented presentation by the group. Graham pointed out plans have been made to offer children's performances during various holidays.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Playrites or at the door.

Midland Girl Plans For Nursing Career

Miss Paulette Cohara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cohara of 841 Virginia Ave., Midland, has been accepted to the Montefiore Hospital Liliane S. Kaufmann School of Nursing in Pittsburgh and will enter the freshman class next September.

Miss Cohara, a senior at Lincoln High School, will be among the first students entering Montefiore's diploma program for nursing education to study in a shortened 30-month course, formerly three years long. The course provides the opportunity to earn college credits at the University of Pittsburgh School of General Studies which are transferrable toward a baccalaureate degree.

Children's Party Set By Legion At Midland

Children of members of Midland American Legion Post 481 and the American Legion Club will be feted at a Christmas party Saturday at 6:30 p. m. at Regan Hall.

Movies will be shown and treats distributed.

At a meeting Monday, Truman Rodfong, adjutant, said the post has 295 members. Steve Crano presided. Woodrow Pflugh, Beaver County commander, reported on a recent legion college.

Twenty - six members of the Sons of the Legion toured the Beaver County Times Saturday. They were accompanied by Mark Pike, manager, Steve Hapach, Pat Cody and Mrs. Leticia Hale. The group has exceeded its 1968 membership.

The Legion will meet Jan. 6 at 8 p.m.

Reunion Takes Place During Airline Trip

A dinner in New York was enjoyed recently by two cousins, former city residents, who hadn't met in years.

Mrs. Mildred Sanford Merkow of Los Angeles was a passenger on an American Air Lines plane flying from Los Angeles to New York. Following normal procedure, the plane's staff was introduced over the public address system, including Capt. James Bell, Mrs. Merkow's cousin and son of Mrs. Ann Bell of East Liverpool.

Bell, who also resides in California, and his cousin caught up on news of the family and friends during a dinner at the end of the flight, Mrs. Kenneth Mooney of East Liverpool, Mrs. Merkow's sister, said.

First Arrest Made In Counterfeit Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Secret Service agents made their first arrest Thursday in what is believed to be a large scale distribution of counterfeit $20 bills.

Leon A. Eldridge, 25, of Cleveland, was arrested for allegedly selling 150 phony $20 bills for $660 to a police officer in October.

Authorities said the phony bills Eldridge was selling are one of four different series that have spread as far as Mansfield. Other counterfeit bills being passed include tens, fives and one hundreds.

The DOCTOR Says

Use Drugs With Supervision

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—Is there any difference between tranquilizers and nerve pills? How do these drugs affect a person?

A — "Nerve pill" is a vague term that may be applied to tranquilizers and antidepressants. The former reduce nervous tension without inducing sleep and the latter tend to elevate the mood of depressed persons. The two types are often used in combination.

Q—If I took a heavy dose of tranquilizer daily for two years, would it cause my stomach to bloat?

A—Bloating is not caused by tranquilizers. It is more likely to be caused by the nervous tension for which the tranquilizer is taken since this tension may interfere with the complete digestion of the sugars and starches in your diet.

Q—What is Compazine used for? Is it a mixture of different drugs? Would it cause a bad reaction if taken with Sansert for migraine?

A—Compazine is a brand of prochlorperazine, a major tranquilizer. It is not a combination of drugs. You can get a bad reaction from taking too large a dose of either of the drugs mentioned, or from their prolonged use, but I know of no reason why they can't be taken together.

Q—How safe is Equanil? Is it habit forming? What side effects does it cause?

Q—I am recovering from a nervous breakdown. When I was released from the hospital I was given Prolixin and Akineton. Could these drugs account for my rapid gain in weight?

A—Prolixin is a major tranquilizer and Akineton is given to relieve the symptoms of Parkinson's disease. Your gain in weight is caused by taking in more calories than you use up as energy.

Q—In this day of wide use of stimulants and tranquilizers, are the two ever used in combination? Is nux vomica a stimulant?

A—Stimulants and tranquilizers are not usually given together. Nux vomica is a dangerous stimulant that has no place in the modern practice of medicine.

Q—What is Mellaril? Does it have any bad side effects?

A—This major tranquilizer in large doses may cause drowsiness and headache.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Julie Nixon Will Follow Traditions For Wedding

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon, described by her mother's press aide as "very much a sentimentalist," will wear "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" when she marries David Eisenhower Sunday.

Press secretary Gerry Van der Heuvel continued to keep secret all details of Julie's wedding gown, but did confirm Thursday that the traditional good-luck rhyme for brides will be followed.

Julie's mother will wear a "fashionably" short aqua dress of corded lace over silk crepe, embroidered with aquamarines at the hem, sleeves and neckline, Mrs. Van der Heuvel said. The dress, designed by Priscilla of Boston, has a fitted bodice and waist and a slightly flared skirt.

Julie's going away costume is a white wool dress with a jacket and side closing. The jacket has a wide self belt with large gold buttons.

Mrs. John Eisenhower, David's mother, will wear a beige silk satin dress with a princess silhouette designed by Malcolm Starr. The dress has a high neckline and long sleeves cuffed in ranch mink.

Among other tidbits Mrs. Van der Heuvel disclosed Thursday was the fact that the wedding guests will ride from the ceremony at Marble Collegiate Church on Fifth Avenue to the reception 30 blocks away in five cartered buses, decorated by friends of David and Julie.

Joseph Tarantino, the pastry chef of the Plaza Hotel where the reception will be held, said he was baking a six-tier, five-foot cake described as a rich poundcake with lemon filling. Instead of the traditional bride and groom figures atop the cake, there will be a vase of flowers—placed there at Julie's request, Tarantino said.

Julie, meanwhile, was busy with last minute details, including writing thank-you notes for the gifts piling up in the dining room of the Nixon's Fifth Avenue apartment.

One gift the young couple is "especially pleased" with, said Mrs. Van der Heuvel, is a brass plaque from David's grandparents, former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The plaque bears the motto, "Bless this Home," and on the back Mrs. Eisenhower wrote, "This hung in the White House during the eight years your grandfather was president."

Mrs. Eisenhower probably will not be able to attend the wedding, Mrs. Van der Heuvel said. "She's

Ohioan Held In Threat On Judge's Life

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Wickliffe man is being held in Nashville, Tenn., on a charge of threatening the life of the late U.S. District Court Judge Paul Jones in Cleveland.

Nicholas H. DeNiro is being held on $25,000 bond and has asked for a court appointed attorney. He was picked up by the FBI Thursday while doing part time work.

DeNiro escaped from Hawthornden State Hospital in Summit County Dec. 5. He had been transferred there from Lima State Hospital.

DeNiro was indicted in federal court in Cleveland for making two threats in 1964 against Jones' life. A federal jury found him innocent by reason of insanity on charges of making the first threat that year.

Again that year DeNiro, 38, allegedly made another threat against Judge Jones' life in a telephone call to an assistant attorney general in Washington, D. C. It was for the second threat that he was indicted and picked up in Tennessee.

DeNiro allegedly threatened the judge's life after Jones upheld in 1963 a U.S. Department of Labor award of $7,721 and temporary payments of .$24.72 a week to DeNiro.

First Since Ike's Administration

LBJ Sees Budget Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the federal budget will show a surplus for the current fiscal year, the first time since the Eisenhower administration that the government's books will be written in black ink.

And there will be more money on hand than spent in fiscal 1970 as well, the President indicated Thursday in a brief statement from Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is recovering from the flu.

The President said the effect of a surplus should help ease the problem of inflation now troubling the nation's economy. "It is needed to curb excessive pressures on demand," the statement said.

Although the President's statement didn't say how much of a surplus is expected for this year, sources indicated it would be in the neighborhood of $1 billion.

This compared with Johnson's original budget projection issued last January of an $8 billion dollar deficit for the 1969 fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

The President's estimate was cut steadily during the year and in November government officials said the deficit probably would be $3 billion.

Budget Director Charles J Zwick, commenting on Johnson's announcement, said that federal expenditures are now expected to match a government estimate issued in September of about $184.4 billion, or $1.7 billion less than the original January figures.

Since the administration expects to have a $1 billion surplus, tax receipts should run about $185.4 billion, or $6 billion higher than the September forecast.

The last time the budget showed a surplus was in fiscal 1960 when the government books showed $213 million more taken in than spent.

Speaking of the 1970 fiscal budget, Johnson said that "I hope it will be possible to submit a budget in January which will continue this small surplus.

For fiscal 1970, which will be the first full year for President-elect Nixon to work at controlling the economy, President Johnson is expected to submit a budget of between $195 billion and $200 billion.

Officials figure, on the basis of this estimate, that the Johnson administration expects Nixon to continue the 10 per cent income tax surcharge. This, along with a general business boom, is given much of the credit for producing the extra money that resulted in the predicted current surplus.

Whether Nixon wants to extend the surtax is unknown. He has made little comment on the matter since winning election last November. However, Nixon's commerce secretary, Maurice Stans, said Thursday it is his personal hope that the surcharge can be cut in half by mid-1969 and eliminattd entirely a year later.

If this reflects Nixon's mood, it could cause him some trouble. Republicans generally put a lot of stock in the importance of a balanced budget, or one that shows a surplus.

If the surtax is what has made a surplus possible, it would be difficult for the Republican administration to explain a tax elimination that could cause a deficit.

Playrites Await Performances Of Christmas Carol

The play will be presented Saturday at 3 and 7 p.m. and Sunday at 7 p.m.

James Graham, president of the Playrites, reminded that Sunday is "Paul McCraw Day," with all proceeds to be donated to the 9-year-old East Liverpool boy hospitalized at Pittsburgh with a rare disease.

In addition, Graham, in his role as "Scrooge," will present a gift to Paul Monday afternoon at Children's Hospital on behalf of the Playrites.

This is the fifth play, but only the first juvenile - oriented presentation by the group. Graham pointed out plans have been made to offer children's performances during various holidays.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Playrites or at the door.

Midland Girl Plans For Nursing Career

Miss Paulette Cohara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cohara of 841 Virginia Ave., Midland, has been accepted to the Montefiore Hospital Liliane S. Kaufmann School of Nursing in Pittsburgh and will enter the freshman class next September.

Miss Cohara, a senior at Lincoln High School, will be among the first students entering Montefiore's diploma program for nursing education to study in a shortened 30-month course, formerly three years long. The course provides the opportunity to earn college credits at the University of Pittsburgh School of General Studies which are transferrable toward a baccalaureate degree.

Children's Party Set By Legion At Midland

Children of members of Midland American Legion Post 481 and the American Legion Club will be feted at a Christmas party Saturday at 6:30 p. m. at Regan Hall.

Movies will be shown and treats distributed.

At a meeting Monday, Truman Rodfong, adjutant, said the post has 295 members. Steve Crano presided. Woodrow Pflugh, Beaver County commander, reported on a recent legion college.

Twenty - six members of the Sons of the Legion toured the Beaver County Times Saturday. They were accompanied by Mark Pike, manager, Steve Hapach, Pat Cody and Mrs. Leticia Hale. The group has exceeded its 1968 membership.

The Legion will meet Jan. 6 at 8 p.m.

Reunion Takes Place During Airline Trip

A dinner in New York was enjoyed recently by two cousins, former city residents, who hadn't met in years.

Mrs. Mildred Sanford Merkow of Los Angeles was a passenger on an American Air Lines plane flying from Los Angeles to New York. Following normal procedure, the plane's staff was introduced over the public address system, including Capt. James Bell, Mrs. Merkow's cousin and son of Mrs. Ann Bell of East Liverpool.

Bell, who also resides in California, and his cousin caught up on news of the family and friends during a dinner at the end of the flight, Mrs. Kenneth Mooney of East Liverpool, Mrs. Merkow's sister, said.

First Arrest Made In Counterfeit Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Secret Service agents made their first arrest Thursday in what is believed to be a large scale distribution of counterfeit $20 bills.

Leon A. Eldridge, 25, of Cleveland, was arrested for allegedly selling 150 phony $20 bills for $660 to a police officer in October.

Authorities said the phony bills Eldridge was selling are one of four different series that have spread as far as Mansfield. Other counterfeit bills being passed include tens, fives and one hundreds.

The DOCTOR Says

Use Drugs With Supervision

Q—Is there any difference between tranquilizers and nerve pills? How do these drugs affect a person?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — "Nerve pill" is a vague term that may be applied to tranquilizers and antidepressants. The former reduce nervous tension without inducing sleep and the latter tend to elevate the mood of depressed persons. The two types are often used in combination.

Q—If I took a heavy dose of tranquilizer daily for two years, would it cause my stomach to bloat?

A—Bloating is not caused by tranquilizers. It is more likely to be caused by the nervous tension for which the tranquilizer is taken since this tension may interfere with the complete digestion of the sugars and starches in your diet.

Q—What is Compazine used for? Is it a mixture of different drugs? Would it cause a bad reaction if taken with Sansert for migraine?

A—Compazine is a brand of prochlorperazine, a major tranquilizer. It is not a combination of drugs. You can get a bad reaction from taking too large a dose of either of the drugs mentioned, or from their prolonged use, but I know of no reason why they can't be taken together.

Q—I am recovering from a nervous breakdown. When I was released from the hospital I was given Prolixin and Akineton. Could these drugs account for my rapid gain in weight?

A—Prolixin is a major tranquilizer and Akineton is given to relieve the symptoms of Parkinson's disease. Your gain in weight is caused by taking in more calories than you use up as energy.

Q—In this day of wide use of stimulants and tranquilizers, are the two ever used in combination? Is nux vomica a stimulant?

A—Stimulants and tranquilizers are not usually given together. Nux vomica is a dangerous stimulant that has no place in the modern practice of medicine.

Q—What is Mellaril? Does it have any bad side effects?

A—This major tranquilizer in large doses may cause drowsiness and headache.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Julie Nixon Will Follow Traditions For Wedding

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon, described by her mother's press aide as "very much a sentimentalist," will wear "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" when she marries David Eisenhower Sunday.

Press secretary Gerry Van der Heuvel continued to keep secret all details of Julie's wedding gown, but did confirm Thursday that the traditional good-luck rhyme for brides will be followed.

Julie's mother will wear a "fashionably" short aqua dress of corded lace over silk crepe, embroidered with aquamarines at the hem, sleeves and neckline, Mrs. Van der Heuvel said. The dress, designed by Priscilla of Boston, has a fitted bodice and waist and a slightly flared skirt.

Julie's going away costume is a white wool dress with a jacket and side closing. The jacket has a wide self belt with large gold buttons.

Mrs. John Eisenhower, David's mother, will wear a beige silk satin dress with a princess silhouette designed by Malcolm Starr. The dress has a high neckline and long sleeves cuffed in ranch mink.

Among other tidbits Mrs. Van der Heuvel disclosed Thursday was the fact that the wedding guests will ride from the ceremony at Marble Collegiate Church on Fifth Avenue to the reception 30 blocks away in five cartered buses, decorated by friends of David and Julie.

Joseph Tarantino, the pastry chef of the Plaza Hotel where the reception will be held, said he was baking a six-tier, five-foot cake described as a rich poundcake with lemon filling. Instead of the traditional bride and groom figures atop the cake, there will be a vase of flowers—placed there at Julie's request, Tarantino said.

Julie, meanwhile, was busy with last minute details, including writing thank-you notes for the gifts piling up in the dining room of the Nixon's Fifth Avenue apartment.

One gift the young couple is "especially pleased" with, said Mrs. Van der Heuvel, is a brass plaque from David's grandparents, former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The plaque bears the motto, "Bless this Home," and on the back Mrs. Eisenhower wrote, "This hung in the White House during the eight years your grandfather was president."

Mrs. Eisenhower probably will not be able to attend the wedding, Mrs. Van der Heuvel said. "She's

Ohioan Held In Threat On Judge's Life

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Wickliffe man is being held in Nashville, Tenn., on a charge of threatening the life of the late U.S. District Court Judge Paul Jones in Cleveland.

Nicholas H. DeNiro is being held on $25,000 bond and has asked for a court appointed attorney. He was picked up by the FBI Thursday while doing part time work.

DeNiro escaped from Hawthornden State Hospital in Summit County Dec. 5. He had been transferred there from Lima State Hospital.

DeNiro was indicted in federal court in Cleveland for making two threats in 1964 against Jones' life. A federal jury found him innocent by reason of insanity on charges of making the first threat that year.

Again that year DeNiro, 38, allegedly made another threat against Judge Jones' life in a telephone call to an assistant attorney general in Washington, D. C. It was for the second threat that he was indicted and picked up in Tennessee.

DeNiro allegedly threatened the judge's life after Jones upheld in 1963 a U.S. Department of Labor award of $7,721 and temporary payments of $24.72 a week to DeNiro.

Sports Whirled

Ohio placed two players on the Parade Magazine High School All-America football team.

Tackle Shad Williams of Portsmouth and quarterback Ted McNulty of Upper Arlington were the honorees. Western Pennsylvania was represented by halfback Dennis Booker of Kiski Area.

John Skorupan, Beaver's fine end, made the third team. There were no other players from the two states named. California and Texas placed five players each in the top 33.

GENE ALLEY'S injured shoulder is still bothering him, and the Pirates are counting on Fred Patek to play shortstop. Patek has had problems with a wrist ever since it was broken by a Don Drysdale fastball shortly after the 5-5 Buc speedster made a flashy debut in Pittsburgh.

ARNOLD PALMER, speaking at a banquet honoring Jack Nicklaus in Columbus earlier this week, kidded Jack by noting that when he sends a check to the bank it comes back marked insuffient funds — not yours, ours.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Darryl Herring has been awarded his second football letter in two years at Wittenberg. Herring gained 455 yards rushing, caught 27 passes for 329 yards, returned 14 punts for 171 yards and returned four kickoffs for 74 yards for the Tigers this year.

BILL FITCH, who guided Bowling Green to the Mid-American Conference basketball title last season, has done a good job so far at Minnesota this season. The Gophers have surprised several good teams and have to be rated as a darkhorse threat to Big Ten powers Ohio State and Purdue. Minnesota is helped by 6-8 Larry Mikan, son of former All-American George Mikan.

I'LL TAKE THIS opportunity to wish you all a Merry Christmas. Special greetings go out to all area coaches, who take time out of their busy schedules to give us information; to our correspondents, without whom we would have no coverage, and to my fellow Yogis, whose fearlessness (or is it foolishness) in predicting makes an enjoyable feature for the readers.

Tri-County Loop Gets Under Way

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

There are 13 high school basketball games in the area this weekend, including East Liverpool's two games on the road.

In addition, the East Liverpool branch of Kent State University plays two games on the road, traveling to St. Clairsville Ohio U. this afternoon and Ashtabula Kent tomorrow.

Merrill Hall's cagers are winless in five starts, but St. Clairsville is also winless, so the locals have a chance to hang up their first victory. This game was postponed from last Friday and the site switched from here to Morristown.

Beaver Local, surprised by Southern Tuesday night, seeks to rebound at Western Beaver. Dave Mason, averaging 21.3, paces the Beavers, 2-4. Injured Bob Flint is averaging 13.4. Western, which snapped a four-game loss streak with a win over Northwestern Tuesday, is led by Chuck Kelker's 13.2 and John Petchel's 10.6.

Midland, 4-1, journeys to Burgettstown, 1-3. The Blue Devils routed South Side 70-38, but have since lost to Canon-McMillan 91-58, Weirton Madonna 56-48 and West Allegheny 87-70. Midland is fresh from an 84-39 whipping of South Side. Greg Vanlier is averaging 14.2 and Bob Bynum 10.2 for the Leopards.

Tri-County League play starts tonight with East Palestine at Lisbon and Poland at Leetonia in big games. The Bulldogs and Blue Devils each won their first games Saturday night, with Jack Swinderman's team now 1-3 and Gary Pike's five 1-2. Bill Knight and Mike O'Brien are new starters for East Palestine, the defending league champs. Joe Lewis is averaging 19.8 and Terry Lipp 18.3 for the Bulldogs. Two Lisbon starters, Roger James and Francis Gardner, have missed school this week with flu. Jim Courtney is hitting 15.7, Jim Taylor 11.3 and Lee Smith 10.0 for the Blue Devils. Both teams lost to West Branch, East Palestine 58-54 and Lisbon 55-52.

Poland is only 2-3, but the Bulldogs were impressive in whipping Hubbard 90-54 the last time out. Poland also nipped West Branch 40-35 while falling to Springfield Local 74-70 in overtime, Ursuline 57-41 and Canfield 51-48. Ken Ekis, Jeff Laughlin and Dave Mort pace Marv McBride's team. Leetonia, 1-2, was idle last weekend. Alan Gibson at 20.0, Ed Casey at 17.7 and Craig Welsh at 10.0 lead Art Kovacs' five.

United, 2-2, boasting the area's leading scorer in Jack Mills, hitting 27.8, hosts Western Reserve, 1-3. The visitors nipped Mineral Ridge 76-72, but fell to North Lima 64-54, Crestview 62-59 and Sebring 84-50. United fell to Sebring 61-52. Steve Cope adds 15.0 a game for the Golden Eagles.

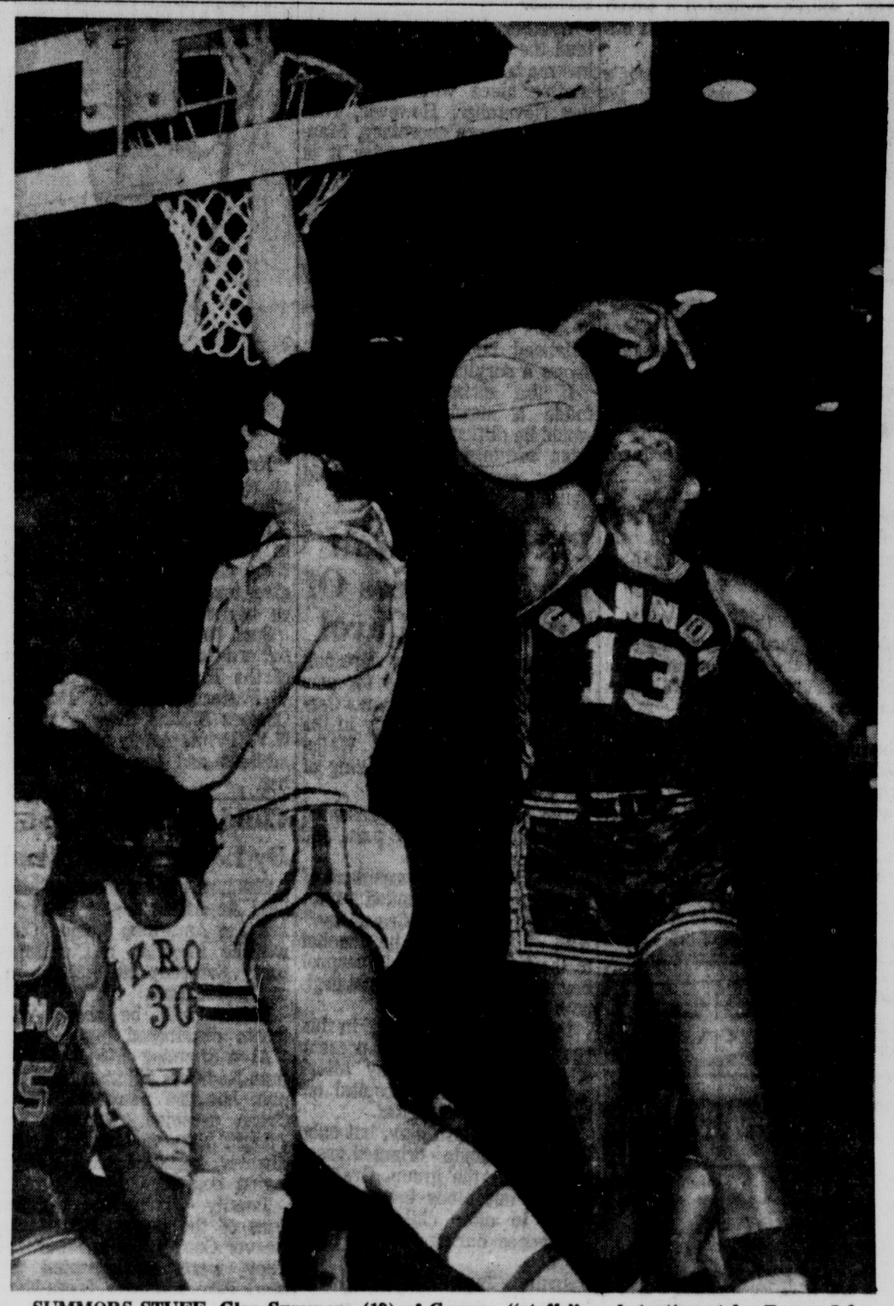

Stanton, 2-3, journeys to Adena, 0-5. The Golden Wave has been beached by Smithfield 79-75, Tiltonsville 78-59, Jewett 69-64, Brilliant 69-46 and Yorkville 78-60. Stanton has fallen to Brilliant twice. Dave Olesky is averaging 19.5 for the Red Raiders and Tim Logan 14.0.

In Saturday action, Lisbon is home again to Southern Local. The Indians broke a 26 - game losing streak Tuesday, and may prove troublesome from here on. Rob Carter is hitting 19.5 and Bob Smith 12.8 for Al Girone's club.

Leetonia also stays home, hosting North Jackson.

Columbiana, idle Friday, travels to tough Springfield Local. The Clippers are 1-3, the Tigers 3-1. East lost to North Lima, Columbiana 75-63 and Springfield 79-77. Gary Gregg is hitting 13.3 and Frank Ringel 10.3 for Rich Berryman's team.

South Side, 1-6 after being pasted by Midland, hosts Northwestern, 1-4. The Panthers have beaten Quigley and lost to Freedom, Center and Western Beaver. Doug Williamson at 13.1 and Dan McNary at 10.9 pace the Rams.

SUMMORS STUFF. Glen Summors (13) of Gannon "stuffs" a shot attempt by Roger Johnson of Akron in action at Akron last night. Gannon won 65-57.

Alcindor Has Foot Injury

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lew Alcindor, college basketball's most famous player, has suffered a pulled tendon in his left foot and may not play for UCLA against Minnesota in Los Angeles tonight when the national champions return to action after a layoff of nearly two weeks.

The towering 7-foot-2 All-American suffered the injury in the Ohio State game at Columbus, Ohio, on Dec. 6, a team spokesman said, but it did not become public until late Thursday night.

The mishap recalled the eye injury Alcindor suffered last season, leading to his sub-par game against Houston in the Astrodome, Jan. 20, 1968, when UCLA's 47-game wnning streak was broken 71-69.

"His foot is better now than it was earlier in the week," said Johnny Wooden, UCLA coach. "But we've told him to let us know if it begins hurting again."

Alcindor has been excused from practice early to have his foot treated and Wooden disclosed he planned to keep his star out of action until the Pacific—8 Conference games next month unless the injury healed.

That would mean Alcindor would miss not only tonight's Minnesota game, but also the West Virginia game Saturday and the Holiday Festival games in New York next week.

Disclosure of Alcindor's pulled tendon overshadowed Thursday night's action on the courts in which 14th-ranked New Mexico State, the only team in the Associated Press Top 20 to play, made it seven in a row by whipping Evansville 98-64 at Las Cruces, N.M.

Calvin Murphy, the nation's second leading scorer, ran his season total to 231 points in six games with 31 points for Niagara as the Purple Eagles rallied to beat Bowling Green at Cleveland 100-92.

Big Bob Lienhard tossed in 36 points and grabbed 25 rebounds to lead Georgia over Furman 97-71 Athens, Ga. Illinois crushed Tulane 105-71 at Champaign and Clemson downed Alabama at Tuscaloosa 96-74.

On the road, Drake defeated Iowa State 81-71, Boston College beat Fairfield 81-69, Southern California edged Oklahoma 48-46 and Oklahoma State nipped Trinity, Tex., 65-63.

Glass, Green Won't Start For Browns

The Cleveland Browns' coach made the decision Thursday after a practice session for the National Football League Eastern Conference playoff.

Collier added, however, that Ernie Green and Bill Glass "will see a lot of action."

Green, the regular running partner with Leroy Kelly, and Glass, a veteran defensive end, both were injured during the regular season.

Both have played on a limited basis since.

Gregory, a second year man, has stepped into the defensive end spot. Harraway, in his third year, has carried 91 times for 334 yards this season and caught 12 passes for 162 yards.

Collier also said Don Cockroft will get first crack at punting. Cockroft, who also kicks field goals, had trouble with his punting against St. Louis.

"We'll just see what happens and how Don does," Collier said. "Gary Collins was kicking very well before the game in St. Louis. We'll make any changes that seem necessary."

Collins is set to open at flanker after a touch of action against St. Louis. It will be the first start for the veteran receiver since he suffered a shoulder separation in October against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Quarterback Bill Nelsen spent extra time throwing to Collins Thursday. The two have been in the same offensive lineup for only about one quarter.

The Browns will hold a brief drill today with emphasis on the specialty units. The Cowboys arrive about noon and also plan a light workout.

Baltimore, Dallas, Kansas City Favored

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If everything goes according to form the Dallas Cowboys will be playing the Baltimore Colts for the National Football League title Dec. 29 and the Kansas City Chiefs will be playing the New York Jets for the American Football League crown.

Form has a way of flip-flopping in these playoff games and it could very well do a somersault Saturday at Cleveland or Sunday at Baltimore or Oakland.

The NFL weekend program calls for Dallas (12-2) at Cleveland (10-4) for the Eastern Conference championship Saturday and Minnesota (8-6) at Baltimore (13-1) Sunday for the Western Conference title.

In the AFL it will be Kansas City (12-2) at Oakland (12-2), Sunday in a playoff for the Western Division title and the right to play the Jets in New York the following Sunday.

After last week's 11-1 record anybody with the smarts would call it quits. But here's a last whirl at the picking.

NFL

Dallas 24, Cleveland 20 (Saturday)—The Cowboys beat the Browns in September 28-7 when Frank Ryan was pitching for Cleveland and Dan Reeves still was healthy and running for Dallas. When they met last year for the Eastern title in Dallas, the Cowboys really poured it on, 52-14 when Bob Hayes running wild on punt returns.

Both teams have explosive attacks but Dallas has the sounder defense, giving up only two touchdowns on the ground all year. If Jethro Pugh is sub par from last Sunday's knee injury in New York, watch the Browns send Leroy Kelly into Dallas' left side.

Both were dull last week, the Cowboys in a 28-10 win over New York, the Browns in a 27-16 defeat by St. Louis.

Baltimore 20, Minnesota 16 (Sunday)—Colts held off the flu-stricken Vikings 21-9 on Nov. 24 after opening up 21-3 halftime lead.

The Vikes really took out after Earl Morrall in the second half, intercepting two and forcing a fumble but Baltimore dug in and stopped Bill Brown twice on the one-yard line in a tense goal line stand.

Baltimore probably will try for the bomb early because injury to Terry Cole and doubtful condition of Jerry Hill hurts their ground game. Return of Dave Osborn in last two games after knee surgery gives Vikings big plus.

AFL

Kansas City 24, Oakland 21 (Sunday)—The past performance book is confusing. The Chiefs went to the old tight-T and whipped the Raiders 24-10 on Oct. 20 and two weeks later were bombed by Daryle Lamonica 38-21. In a pre-season game Kansas City won 31-21.

Hank Stram's club closed strong and Oakland has won last eight.

Against commno foes in last two weeks, Chiefs bombed San Diego, 40-3, Raiders squeaked home 34-27. Chiefs clubbed Denver 30-7, Raiders ralled for 33-27 edge.

Oakland has better runnng but Lamonca passed them Silly Nov. 3. No love lost on either side in this one.

Baseball Owners Meet Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's top brass, pledged to conjure a new image for the major leagues, meets tonight to seek a successor to dismissed Commissioner William D. Eckert.

Whether club owners of the National and American Leagues will settle on an Eckert replacement immediately is not known.

This meeting, exactly 14 days after Eckert apparently was "fired" by club owners is expected to concentrate on a half-dozen baseball-wise candidates fo rthe reported $100,000-a-year job.

Topping the list is Mike Burke, president of the New York Yankees, who has strong Eastern support, but may run into an American-National split on selection of the game's fifth czar.

Other candidates reportedly are Milwaukee's Judge Bob Cannon, former counsel for big league players; Vice President Chub Feeney of the San Francisco Giants; President Joe Cronin of the American League; and General Managers Lee MacPhail of the Yankees and Bing Devine of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Owner Charles O. Finley of the Oakland A's predicted "we'll run into a stalemate and will meet again before we select a commissioner."

Burke, 50, who bloomed into a strong baseball personality when the Columbia Broadcasting Company bought the Yankees four years ago, said he doubted the session here would bring a vote on a new commissioner.

Northwestern Tops OU; Niagara Downs BG

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten seems to be a nemesis for Ohio University.

Despite a near - record 43-point performance by Gerald McKee Thursday night, the Bobcats came out on the short end of a 89 - 80 basketball contest with Northwestern.

It was OU's fourth loss—all against Big Ten teams. Earlier the Bobcats were downed by Ohio State, Purdue and Illinois.

McKee, a 6 - foot - 3 forward from Dayton, came within two points of matching the school's all-time scoring record of 45 points shot by Fred Moore in 1957.

Ohio surged back from a 44-27 deficit to make it 44-36 at the half, but never was able to catch up. Rebounds made the difference, with the Wildcats grabbing 49 to Ohio's 37.

Meanwhile, another Mid-American Conference team was having its troubles with a non-loop foe. Bowling Green blew a 46-43 halftime lead in losing to Niagara 100-92.

Playing at Cleveland Arena, the Falcons held Calvin Murphy to 31 points and outshot Niagara 61 to 56 per cent, but the Purple Eagles took 33 rebounds to 28 for Bowling Green. Murphy is the nation's second highest scorer, with an even 40 - point average before Thursday night.

Steve Schafer chipped in 24 points for Niagara, while Bowling Green's Jim Connally had 22 and Dick Rudgers 18.

In other games, Florida Presbyterian edged Baldwin-Wallace 78-77, Gannon beat Akron 65-57, Union College bombed Findlay 83-64, Huntingdon, Ala., slipped by Ohio Northern 76 - 74, Wittenberg clobbered Manchester 107-59, and Marietta thumped Denison 89-59.

John Rinka Top Scorer In Nation

By The Associated Press

John Rinka of Kenyon College is a little guy—at least by basketball standards—but he hasn't let his 5-foot-9 stature prevent him from being small college basketball's top scorer.

Rinka, a junior from Milwaukee, is averaging 36.8 points per game, according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Sports Service, to rank well ahead of runner-up Bobb Dandridge of Norfolk State, with a 33.8 mark.

Rinka had 184 points in his first five games.

Wellsville Cagers Split At Springfield

Wellsville split a basketball doubleheader at Springfield yesterday, losing the eighth-grade game 28-25 but winning the seventh grade contest 18-7.

Randy Young led the eighth graders, now 1-2, with 11 points. Williams and McConnaughy had 10 each for the winners.

The seventh graders, 3-0, were paced by Terry Allison, who scored 10 markers.

Pistons Swap DeBusschere To New York

DETROIT (AP) — The Pistons traded an institution Thursday in a National Basketball Association move designed to get the Detroit club back on the winning track.

The Pistons announced 6-foot-6 Dave DeBusschere, a college star at the University of Detroit and a Piston since 1962, was traded to the New York Knicks for Howard Komives and the big man the Pistons have needed, 6-foot-11 Walt Bellamy.

The players will face each other tonight when the Knicks and Pistons tangle in Detroit.

Thompson Pass, Alaska, got an extreme snowfall record of 204.2 inches in November, 1952.

Sports Whirled

Ohio placed two players on the Parade Magazine High School All-America football team.

Tackle Shad Williams of Portsmouth and quarterback Ted McNulty of Upper Arlington were the honorees. Western Pennsylvania was represented by halfback Dennis Booker of Kiski Area.

John Skorupan, Beaver's fine end, made the third team. There were no other players from the two states named. California and Texas placed five players each in the top 33.

GENE ALLEY'S injured shoulder is still bothering him, and the Pirates are counting on Fred Patek to play shortstop. Patek has had problems with a wrist ever since it was broken by a Don Drysdale fastball shortly after the 5-5 Buc speedster made a flashy debut in Pittsburgh.

ARNOLD PALMER, speaking at a banquet honoring Jack Nicklaus in Columbus earlier this week, kidded Jack by noting that when he sends a check to the bank it comes back marked insuffient funds — not yours, ours.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Darryl Herring has been awarded his second football letter in two years at Wittenberg. Herring gained 455 yards rushing, caught 27 passes for 329 yards, returned 14 punts for 171 yards and returned four kickoffs for 74 yards for the Tigers this year.

BILL FITCH, who guided Bowling Green to the Mid-American Conference basketball title last season, has done a good job so far at Minnesota this season. The Gophers have surprised several good teams and have to be rated as a darkhorse threat to Big Ten powers Ohio State and Purdue. Minnesota is helped by 6-8 Larry Mikan, son of former All-American George Mikan.

I'LL TAKE THIS opportunity to wish you all a Merry Christmas. Special greetings go out to all area coaches, who take time out of their busy schedules to give us information; to our correspondents, without whom we would have no coverage, and to my fellow Yogis, whose fearlessness (or is it foolishness) in predicting makes an enjoyable feature for the readers.

Tri-County Loop Gets Under Way

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

There are 13 high school basketball games in the area this weekend, including East Liverpool's two games on the road.

In addition, the East Liverpool branch of Kent State University plays two games on the road, traveling to St. Clairsville Ohio U. this afternoon and Ashtabula Kent tomorrow.

Merrill Hall's cagers are winless in five starts, but St. Clairsville is also winless, so the locals have a chance to hang up their first victory. This game was postponed from last Friday and the site switched from here to Morristown.

Beaver Local, surprised by Southern Tuesday night, seeks to rebound at Western Beaver. Dave Mason, averaging 21.3, paces the Beavers, 2-4. Injured Bob Flint is averaging 13.4. Western, which snapped a four-game loss streak with a win over Northwestern Tuesday, is led by Chuck Kelker's 13.2 and John Petchel's 10.6.

Midland, 4-1, journeys to Burgettstown, 1-3. The Blue Devils routed South Side 70-38, but have since lost to Canon-McMillan 91-58, Weirton Madonna 56-48 and West Allegheny 87-70. Midland is fresh from an 84-39 whipping of South Side. Greg Vanlier is averaging 14.2 and Bob Bynum 10.2 for the Leopards.

Tri-County League play starts tonight with East Palestine at Lisbon and Poland at Leetonia in big games. The Bulldogs and Blue Devils each won their first games Saturday night, with Jack Swinderman's team now 1-3 and Gary Pike's five 1-2. Bill Knight and Mike O'Brien are new starters for East Palestine, the defending league champs. Joe Lewis is averaging 19.8 and Terry Lipp 18.3 for the Bulldogs. Two Lisbon starters, Roger James and Francis Gardner, have missed school this week with flu. Jim Courtney is hitting 15.7, Jim Taylor 11.3 and Lee Smith 10.0 for the Blue Devils. Both teams lost to West Branch, East Palestine 58-54 and Lisbon 55-52.

Poland is only 2-3, but the Bulldogs were impressive in whipping Hubbard 90-54 the last time out. Poland also nipped West Branch 40-35 while falling to Springfield Local 74-70 in overtime, Ursuline 57-41 and Canfield 51-48. Ken Ekis, Jeff Laughlin and Dave Mort pace Marv McBride's team. Leetonia, 1-2, was idle last weekend. Alan Gibson at 20.0, Ed Casey at 17.7 and Craig Welsh at 10.0 lead Art Kovacs' five.

United, 2-2, boasting the area's leading scorer in Jack Mills, hitting 27.8, hosts Western Reserve, 1-3. The visitors nipped Mineral Ridge 76-72, but fell to North Lima 64-54, Crestview 62-59 and Sebring 84-50. United fell to Sebring 61-52. Steve Cope adds 15.0 a game for the Golden Eagles.

Stanton, 2-3, journeys to Adena, 0-5. The Golden Wave has been beached by Smithfield 79-75, Tiltonsville 78-59, Jewett 69-64, Brilliant 69-46 and Yorkville 78-60. Stanton has fallen to Brilliant twice. Dave Olesky is averaging 19.5 for the Red Raiders and Tim Logan 14.0.

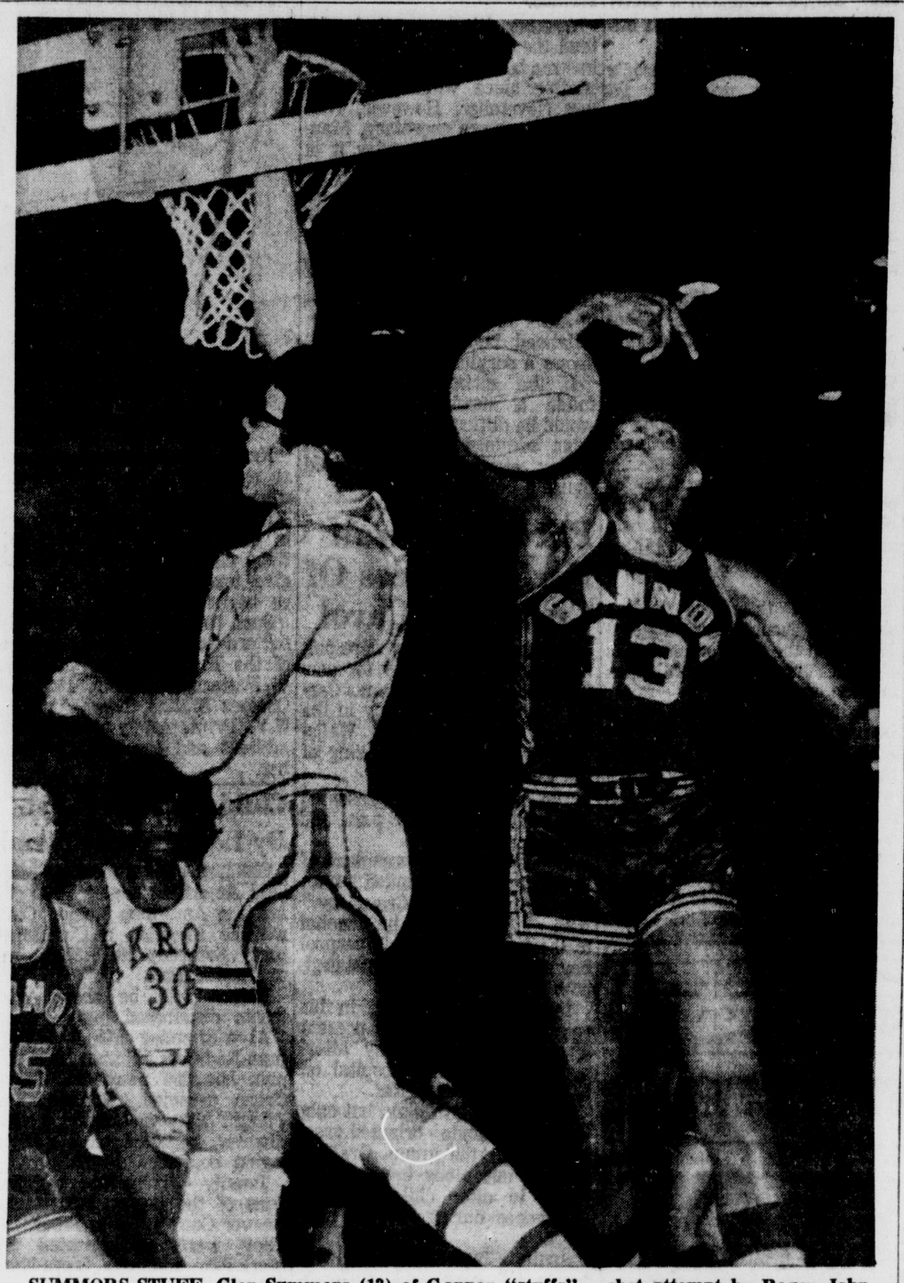

In Saturday action, Lisbon is home again to Southern Local. The Indians broke a 26 - game losing streak Tuesday, and may prove troublesome from here on. Rob Carter is hitting 19.5 and Bob Smith 12.8 for Al Girone's club.

Leetonia also stays home, hosting North Jackson.

Columbiana, idle Friday, travels to tough Springfield Local. The Clippers are 1-3, the Tigers 3-1. East lost to North Lima, Columbiana 75-63 and Springfield 79-77. Gary Gregg is hitting 13.3 and Frank Ringel 10.3 for Rich Berryman's team.

South Side, 1-6 after being pasted by Midland, hosts Northwestern, 1-4. The Panthers have beaten Quigley and lost to Freedom, Center and Western Beaver. Doug Williamson at 13.1 and Dan McNary at 10.9 pace the Rams.

SUMMORS STUFF. Glen Summors (13) of Gannon "stuffs" a shot attempt by Roger Johnson of Akron in action at Akron last night. Gannon won 65-57.

Glass, Green Won't Start For Browns

The Cleveland Browns' coach made the decision Thursday after a practice session for the National Football League Eastern Conference playoff.

Collier added, however, that Ernie Green and Bill Glass "will see a lot of action."

Green, the regular running partner with Leroy Kelly, and Glass, a veteran defensive end, both were injured during the regular season.

Both have played on a limited basis since.

Gregory, a second year man, has stepped into the defensive end spot. Harraway, in his third year, has carried 91 times for 334 yards this season and caught 12 passes for 162 yards.

Collier also said Don Cockroft will get first crack at punting. Cockroft, who also kicks field goals, had trouble with his punting against St. Louis.

"We'll just see what happens and how Don does," Collier said. "Gary Collins was kicking very well before the game in St. Louis. We'll make any changes that seem necessary."

Collins is set to open at flanker after a touch of action against St. Louis. It will be the first start for the veteran receiver since he suffered a shoulder separation in October against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Quarterback Bill Nelsen spent extra time throwing to Collins Thursday. The two have been in the same offensive lineup for only about one quarter.

Baltimore, Dallas, Kansas City Favored

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If everything goes according to form the Dallas Cowboys will be playing the Baltimore Colts for the National Football League title Dec. 29 and the Kansas City Chiefs will be playing the New York Jets for the American Football League crown.

Form has a way of flip-flopping in these playoff games and it could very well do a somersault Saturday at Cleveland or Sunday at Baltimore or Oakland.

The NFL weekend program calls for Dallas (12-2) at Cleveland (10-4) for the Eastern Conference championship Saturday and Minnesota (8-6) at Baltimore (13-1) Sunday for the Western Conference title.

In the AFL it will be Kansas City (12-2) at Oakland (12-2), Sunday in a playoff for the Western Division title and the right to play the Jets in New York the following Sunday.

After last week's 11-1 record anybody with the smarts would call it quits. But here's a last whirl at the picking.

NFL

Dallas 24, Cleveland 20 (Saturday)—The Cowboys beat the Browns in September 28-7 when Frank Ryan was pitching for Cleveland and Dan Reeves still was healthy and running for Dallas. When they met last year for the Eastern title in Dallas, the Cowboys really poured it on, 52-14 when Bob Hayes running wild on punt returns.

Both teams have explosive attacks but Dallas has the sounder defense, giving up only two touchdowns on the ground all year. If Jethro Pugh is sub par from last Sunday's knee injury in New York, watch the Browns send Leroy Kelly into Dallas' left side.

Both were dull last week, the Cowboys in a 28-10 win over New York, the Browns in a 27-16 defeat by St. Louis.

Baltimore 20, Minnesota 16 (Sunday)—Colts held off the flu-stricken Vikings 21-9 on Nov. 24 after opening up 21-3 halftime lead.

The Vikes really took out after Earl Morrall in the second half, intercepting two and forcing a fumble but Baltimore dug in and stopped Bill Brown twice on the one-yard line in a tense goal line stand.

Baltimore probably will try for the bomb early because injury to Terry Cole and doubtful condition of Jerry Hill hurts their ground game. Return of Dave Osborn in last two games after knee surgery gives Vikings big plus.

AFL

Kansas City 24, Oakland 21 (Sunday)—The past performance book is confusing. The Chiefs went to the old tight-T and whipped the Raiders 24-10 on Oct. 20 and two weeks later were bombed by Daryle Lamonica 38-21. In a pre-season game Kansas City won 31-21.

Hank Stram's club closed strong and Oakland has won last eight.

Against commno foes in last two weeks, Chiefs bombed San Diego, 40-3, Raiders squeaked home 34-27. Chiefs clubbed Denver 30-7, Raiders ralled for 33-27 edge.

Oakland has better runnng but Lamonca passed them Silly Nov. 3. No love lost on either side in this one.

Baseball Owners Meet Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's top brass, pledged to conjure a new image for the major leagues, meets tonight to seek a successor to dismissed Commissioner William D. Eckert.

Whether club owners of the National and American Leagues will settle on an Eckert replacement immediately is not known.

This meeting, exactly 14 days after Eckert apparently was "fired" by club owners is expected to concentrate on a half-dozen baseball-wise candidates fo rthe reported $100,000-a-year job.

Topping the list is Mike Burke, president of the New York Yankees, who has strong Eastern support, but may run into an American-National split on selection of the game's fifth czar.

Other candidates reportedly are Milwaukee's Judge Bob Cannon, former counsel for big league players; Vice President Chub Feeney of the San Francisco Giants; President Joe Cronin of the American League; and General Managers Lee MacPhail of the Yankees and Bing Devine of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Owner Charles O. Finley of the Oakland A's predicted "we'll run into a stalemate and will meet again before we select a commissioner."

Burke, 50, who bloomed into a strong baseball personality when the Columbia Broadcasting Company bought the Yankees four years ago, said he doubted the session here would bring a vote on a new commissioner.

Northwestern Tops OU; Niagara Downs BG

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten seems to be a nemesis for Ohio University.

Despite a near - record 43-point performance by Gerald McKee Thursday night, the Bobcats came out on the short end of a 89 - 80 basketball contest with Northwestern.

It was OU's fourth loss—all against Big Ten teams. Earlier the Bobcats were downed by Ohio State, Purdue and Illinois.

McKee, a 6 - foot - 3 forward from Dayton, came within two points of matching the school's all-time scoring record of 45 points shot by Fred Moore in 1957.

McKee scored 38 of his 43 points from the field and was the rebound leader with 14.

Ohio surged back from a 44-27 deficit to make it 44-36 at the half, but never was able to catch up. Rebounds made the difference, with the Wildcats grabbing 49 to Ohio's 37.

Meanwhile, another Mid-American Conference team was having its troubles with a non-loop foe. Bowling Green blew a 46-43 halftime lead in losing to Niagara 100-92.

Playing at Cleveland Arena, the Falcons held Calvin Murphy to 31 points and outshot Niagara 61 to 56 per cent, but the Purple Eagles took 33 rebounds to 28 for Bowling Green. Murphy is the nation's second highest scorer, with an even 40 - point average before Thursday night.

Steve Schafer chipped in 24 points for Niagara, while Bowling Green's Jim Connally had 22 and Dick Rudgers 18.

In other games, Florida Presbyterian edged Baldwin-Wallace 78-77, Gannon beat Akron 65-57, Union College bombed Findlay 83-64, Huntingdon, Ala., slipped by Ohio Northern 76 - 74, Wittenberg clobbered Manchester 107-59, and Marietta thumped Denison 89-59.

Alcindor Has Foot Injury

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lew Alcindor, college basketball's most famous player, has suffered a pulled tendon in his left foot and may not play for UCLA against Minnesota in Los Angeles tonight when the national champions return to action after a layoff of nearly two weeks.

The towering 7-foot-2 All-American suffered the injury in the Ohio State game at Columbus, Ohio, on Dec. 6, a team spokesman said, but it did not become public until late Thursday night.

The mishap recalled the eye injury Alcindor suffered last season, leading to his sub-par game against Houston in the Astrodome, Jan. 20, 1968, when UCLA's 47-game wnning streak was broken 71-69.

"His foot is better now than it was earlier in the week," said Johnny Wooden, UCLA coach. "But we've told him to let us know if it begins hurting again."

Alcindor has been excused from practice early to have his foot treated and Wooden disclosed he planned to keep his star out of action until the Pacific—8 Conference games next month unless the injury healed.

That would mean Alcindor would miss not only tonight's Minnesota game, but also the West Virginia game Saturday and the Holiday Festival games in New York next week.

Disclosure of Alcindor's pulled tendon overshadowed Thursday night's action on the courts in which 14th-ranked New Mexico State, the only team in the Associated Press Top 20 to play, made it seven in a row by whipping Evansville 98-64 at Las Cruces, N.M.

Calvin Murphy, the nation's second leading scorer, ran his season total to 231 points in six games with 31 points for Niagara as the Purple Eagles rallied to beat Bowling Green at Cleveland 100-92.

Big Bob Lienhard tossed in 36 points and grabbed 25 rebounds to lead Georgia over Furman 97-71 Athens, Ga. Illinois crushed Tulane 105-71 at Champaign and Clemson downed Alabama at Tuscaloosa 96-74.

On the road, Drake defeated Iowa State 81-71, Boston College beat Fairfield 81-69, Southern California edged Oklahoma 48-46 and Oklahoma State nipped Trinity, Tex., 65-63.

Kentucky Wesleyan, No. 1 in the AP small college poll, won its 28th straight by crushing San Diego State 86-63 at Owensboro, Ky. Richmond beat Virginia Military 90-80 at Salem, Va., in the first round of the Virginia Big Five tournament.

The Midland Holiday Tournament will feature all the trimmings of past years, including exciting basketball and the ever-popular queen's pageant.

Eight area girls are trying for the title this year.

The pageant will highlight the opening festivities Dec. 27.

Each of the four schools have two candidates. Judges named to select the girl to reign over the weekend event are Miss Pat Hartling of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Charles Schmitt of Midland and Mrs. Paul Botte of Ohioview, Industry.

New Castle will be represented by seniors Rebecca Jean Barber and Donnalou Zambelli. Both girls are taking the academic course in school.

McKeesport has entered Carol Jean King, a senior in the business course, and Karen Ann Moran, a senior in the academic course.

Carol Marlene Allen and Johanna Marie Baldovich will repersent Beaver Falls High School. Both girls are seniors in the academic course.

Carole Lynn Ancrile, a senior in the general course, and Glenda Renie Leavalle, a senior in the commercial course, will represent host school Midland.

The new queen will receive gifts, a tiara crown, a dozen of roses and a savings bond.

The girls will be introduced to the fans at the halftime of the opening game and again at the intermission between games. The selection of the new queen and the crowning will take place between halves of the final game on opening night.

Ashe Wants Kramer As Tennis Czar

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe Jr., the center of a brisk dollar war between rival tennis promoters, said Thursday professionals and amateur associations should get together immediately and hire Jack Kramer as the czar of the game.

"Time is short," the American Davis Cup ace from Richmond, Va., added. "I'm afraid if something isn't done soon we will lose all of our recent open tennis gains and blow the opportunity to make tennis a big time spectator sport.

"Kramer would be the ideal commissioner. He knows the game inside out. He is smart and imaginative. He has a long history of dealings not only with pros but the amateur associations as well.

"He is the one man in a position to take over the game and put it on the right track. Personally, I think he would welcome the opportunity."

Ashe, who will lead the U.S. Davis Cup forces against Australia here starting the day after Christmas, made his comments as warring factions drew the lines for what promises to be a bitter and perhaps disastrous struggle for power in 1969.

East Junior Defeats Grant

3 Saints' Aides Quit

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Three of New Orleans Saints' Coach Tom Fears' assistants—including his two top lieutenants—have resigned unexpectedly.

Joining Faulkner were Bob Dickson, the chief offensive coach, and Bob Shaw, coach of the receivers. A fourth assistant, Walt Yowarsky, previously told Fears and Schwenk that he would quit at the end of the season.

I means Fears is losing four of his seven assistants from a staff which won four games this season, equalling the best second-year performance for any NFL expansion team.

Faulkner sounded extremely distressed when he announced the decision in a telephone call to The Associated Press. He said he didn't want to elaborate but might have something more to say later.

Fears would not talk to newsmen nor return any telephone calls made to his home or office.

DeJordy Shuts Out Red Wings

By The Associated Press

Suddenly, the hottest goaltender in the National Hockey League is Chicago's Denis DeJordy, who just five weeks ago shuffled off to the Central League with his 3.70 goals against average and the boos of Black Hawk fans ringing in his ears.

DeJordy, recalled this week after Chicago had allowed 27 goals in five games, shut out Detroit 2-0 Thursday night for the Hawks' third straight victories. He has allowed just one goal in the two games since returning to the NHL.

In other NHL action Thursday, Boston rallied for a 6-4 victory over Los Angeles and Philadelphia wiped out a three-goal deficit to tie Minnesota 5-5.

DeJordy, who kicked out 34 shots against New York Wednesday night, stopped 33 more against the Red Wings for his first shutout of the year. He was locked in a scoreless duel with Detroit's Roger Crozier through the first two periods.

Then Doug Mohns' slap shot a half minute into the final period bounced off a Red Wing defender and past Crozier.

Midway through the period, Bobby Schmautz' fifth goal of the year completed the scoring.

Bobby Hull, he NHL's leading scorr, went without a goal for the second straight game and was involved in a second period fight with Detroit's Ron Harris.

Johnny Bucyk and Ron Murphy scored two goals apiece for Boston but it was Ed Westfall's tally with less than six minutes remaining that broke a tie and triggered Boston's victory over Los Angeles.

The triumph moved Boston within one point of idle Montreal in the NHL's East Division race.

Haskins' Heroics Help Bulls Beat Bucks 113-111

By The Associated Press

Chicago's Clem Haskins came up with a closing seconds rescue act that dropped the expansion Milwaukee Bucks deeper into the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division cellar. And Haskins' heroics also enabled the Bulls to climb into a fourth-place tie with idle San Francisco in the West.

Haskins drilled in a 30-foot jump shot and scored two free throws in the last eight seconds Thursday night to climax a rally that gave the Bulls a 113-111 victory over Milwaukee.

The loss was the 25th this season (against only eight victories) for the Bucks—the most defeats by a team this season in the NBA.

It was the only game scheduled in the league.

Over in the American Basketball Association, Denver rolled past Kentucky 116-95, New York stopped Miami 119-110 and New Orleans defeated Dallas 113-108.

Chicago trailed by as many as 16 points in the second quarter before capitalizing on cold Milwaukee shooting to tie it 77-77 late in the third quarter.

It was 107-107 with a minute left when Haskins went to work. He traded baskets with Jon McGlocklin before hitting his long jumper with eight seconds to go, then clinched it with the two free throws four seconds later.

The Bucks' Len Chappel took scoring honors with 33 points, while Haskins and Bob Boozer each had 25 for the Bulls, who moved into a fourth-place tie with San Francisco in the Western Division.

Perry, traded by Miami to the Nets for Maurice McHartley earlier this week, riddled his old mates with 24 points, including some vital ones as New York wiped out a two-point deficit at the start of the final quarter.

Denver picked up its fourth straight victory with ease, although Kentucky's Louie Dampier canned seven three-point shots in scoring 34 points.

The Rockets, paced by Larry Jones' 22 points, grabbed a 28-14 first quarter lead, boosted it to 61-47 by halftime and coasted the rest of the way.

Jimmy Jones scored nine of his 32 points in a final quarter surge that gave New Orleans its victory over Dallas, snapping the Chaparrals four-game winning streak.

Bill Beall Head Coach At Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Bill Beall, with a five-year contract as the Baylor University head football coach in hand, set about to plot his own personal schoolboy recruiting war today.

Beall, an assistant defensive backfield coach at Louisiana State for the past eight seasons, was named Thursday as head coach, ending a three-week long search for a replacement for John Bridgers.

In addition to getting a late start in recruiting high school prospects, Beall must gather a coaching staff and hope for unified backing from a divisive alumni that is clamoring for a winner.

Humphrey Defensive NFL Rookie

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Claude Humphrey, the 6-foot-5, 225-pound defensive end of the Atlanta Falcons, has been voted defensive Rookie of the Year in the National Football League.

Humphrey was the No. 1 pick of the Falcons in the 1968 draft and the third man taken of the 462 selected by the 26 pro clubs.

The voting of an Associated Press panel of 48 sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city, was close between Humphrey and Larry Cole of Dallas. The defensive end took over Willie Townes' job in mid-season and helpd th Cowboys win the Captiol Division championship.

Although six of the panel mmbers did not participate in this phase of the voting, announced today, the 42 votes cast were divided among six candidates.

Humphrey was the winner with 17 and Cole a close second with 14.

Jamie Rivers, St. Louis middle linebacker who was injured late in the season, was third with six votes. Jim Smith, the Washington defensive back who suffered a broken neck in the last game with Detroit, drew three ballots.

Bob Atkins, St. Louis corner back, and Bill Belk, San Francisco defensive end, each received one vote.

Humphrey played both end and tackle in college at Tennessee State.

Mrs. Whitney Stone's Shuvee, a 2-year-old filly, was named after her sire and dam, Nashua and Levee.

The Midland Holiday Tournament will feature all the trimmings of past years, including exciting basketball and the ever-popular queen's pageant.

Eight area girls are trying for the title this year.

The pageant will highlight the opening festivities Dec. 27.

Each of the four schools have two candidates. Judges named to select the girl to reign over the weekend event are Miss Pat Hartling of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Charles Schmitt of Midland and Mrs. Paul Botte of Ohioview, Industry.

New Castle will be represented by seniors Rebecca Jean Barber and Donnalou Zambelli. Both girls are taking the academic course in school.

McKeesport has entered Carol Jean King, a senior in the business course, and Karen Ann Moran, a senior in the academic course.

Carol Marlene Allen and Johanna Marie Baldovich will repersent Beaver Falls High School. Both girls are seniors in the academic course.

Carole Lynn Ancrile, a senior in the general course, and Glenda Renie Leavalle, a senior in the commercial course, will represent host school Midland.

The new queen will receive gifts, a tiara crown, a dozen of roses and a savings bond.

The girls will be introduced to the fans at the halftime of the opening game and again at the intermission between games. The selection of the new queen and the crowning will take place between halves of the final game on opening night.

Ashe Wants Kramer As Tennis Czar

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe Jr., the center of a brisk dollar war between rival tennis promoters, said Thursday professionals and amateur associations should get together immediately and hire Jack Kramer as the czar of the game.

"Time is short," the American Davis Cup ace from Richmond, Va., added. "I'm afraid if something isn't done soon we will lose all of our recent open tennis gains and blow the opportunity to make tennis a big time spectator sport.

"Kramer would be the ideal commissioner. He knows the game inside out. He is smart and imaginative. He has a long history of dealings not only with pros but the amateur associations as well.

"He is the one man in a position to take over the game and put it on the right track. Personally, I think he would welcome the opportunity."

Ashe, who will lead the U.S. Davis Cup forces against Australia here starting the day after Christmas, made his comments as warring factions drew the lines for what promises to be a bitter and perhaps disastrous struggle for power in 1969.

East Junior Defeats Grant

3 Saints' Aides Quit

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Three of New Orleans Saints' Coach Tom Fears' assistants—including his two top lieutenants—have resigned unexpectedly.

Joining Faulkner were Bob Dickson, the chief offensive coach, and Bob Shaw, coach of the receivers. A fourth assistant, Walt Yowarsky, previously told Fears and Schwenk that he would quit at the end of the season.

I means Fears is losing four of his seven assistants from a staff which won four games this season, equalling the best second-year performance for any NFL expansion team.

Faulkner sounded extremely distressed when he announced the decision in a telephone call to The Associated Press. He said he didn't want to elaborate but might have something more to say later.

Fears would not talk to newsmen nor return any telephone calls made to his home or office.

DeJordy Shuts Out Red Wings

By The Associated Press

Suddenly, the hottest goaltender in the National Hockey League is Chicago's Denis DeJordy, who just five weeks ago shuffled off to the Central League with his 3.70 goals against average and the boos of Black Hawk fans ringing in his ears.

DeJordy, recalled this week after Chicago had allowed 27 goals in five games, shut out Detroit 2-0 Thursday night for the Hawks' third straight victories. He has allowed just one goal in the two games since returning to the NHL.

In other NHL action Thursday, Boston rallied for a 6-4 victory over Los Angeles and Philadelphia wiped out a three-goal deficit to tie Minnesota 5-5.

DeJordy, who kicked out 34 shots against New York Wednesday night, stopped 33 more against the Red Wings for his first shutout of the year. He was locked in a scoreless duel with Detroit's Roger Crozier through the first two periods.

Then Doug Mohns' slap shot a half minute into the final period bounced off a Red Wing defender and past Crozier.

Midway through the period, Bobby Schmautz' fifth goal of the year completed the scoring.

Bobby Hull, he NHL's leading scorr, went without a goal for the second straight game and was involved in a second period fight with Detroit's Ron Harris.

Johnny Bucyk and Ron Murphy scored two goals apiece for Boston but it was Ed Westfall's tally with less than six minutes remaining that broke a tie and triggered Boston's victory over Los Angeles.

The triumph moved Boston within one point of idle Montreal in the NHL's East Division race.

Bill White's unassisted goal in the first minute of the final period had tied the game for the Kings before Westfall put the Bruins on top for keeps.

Four Points In 8 Seconds

Haskins' Heroics Help Bulls Beat Bucks 113-111

By The Associated Press

Chicago's Clem Haskins came up with a closing seconds rescue act that dropped the expansion Milwaukee Bucks deeper into the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division cellar. And Haskins' heroics also enabled the Bulls to climb into a fourth-place tie with idle San Francisco in the West.

Haskins drilled in a 30-foot jump shot and scored two free throws in the last eight seconds Thursday night to climax a rally that gave the Bulls a 113-111 victory over Milwaukee.

The loss was the 25th this season (against only eight victories) for the Bucks—the most defeats by a team this season in the NBA.

It was the only game scheduled in the league.

Over in the American Basketball Association, Denver rolled past Kentucky 116-95, New York stopped Miami 119-110 and New Orleans defeated Dallas 113-108.

Chicago trailed by as many as 16 points in the second quarter before capitalizing on cold Milwaukee shooting to tie it 77-77 late in the third quarter.

It was 107-107 with a minute left when Haskins went to work. He traded baskets with Jon McGlocklin before hitting his long jumper with eight seconds to go, then clinched it with the two free throws four seconds later.

The Bucks' Len Chappel took scoring honors with 33 points, while Haskins and Bob Boozer each had 25 for the Bulls, who moved into a fourth-place tie with San Francisco in the Western Division.

Perry, traded by Miami to the Nets for Maurice McHartley earlier this week, riddled his old mates with 24 points, including some vital ones as New York wiped out a two-point deficit at the start of the final quarter.

McHartley, meanwhile, managed only four points for the Floridians.

Denver picked up its fourth straight victory with ease, although Kentucky's Louie Dampier canned seven three-point shots in scoring 34 points.

The Rockets, paced by Larry Jones' 22 points, grabbed a 28-14 first quarter lead, boosted it to 61-47 by halftime and coasted the rest of the way.

Jimmy Jones scored nine of his 32 points in a final quarter surge that gave New Orleans its victory over Dallas, snapping the Chaparrals four-game winning streak.

Bill Beall Head Coach At Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Bill Beall, with a five-year contract as the Baylor University head football coach in hand, set about to plot his own personal schoolboy recruiting war today.

Beall, an assistant defensive backfield coach at Louisiana State for the past eight seasons, was named Thursday as head coach, ending a three-week long search for a replacement for John Bridgers.

In addition to getting a late start in recruiting high school prospects, Beall must gather a coaching staff and hope for unified backing from a divisive alumni that is clamoring for a winner.

Humphrey Defensive NFL Rookie

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Claude Humphrey, the 6-foot-5, 225-pound defensive end of the Atlanta Falcons, has been voted defensive Rookie of the Year in the National Football League.

Humphrey was the No. 1 pick of the Falcons in the 1968 draft and the third man taken of the 462 selected by the 26 pro clubs.

The voting of an Associated Press panel of 48 sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city, was close between Humphrey and Larry Cole of Dallas. The defensive end took over Willie Townes' job in mid-season and helpd th Cowboys win the Captiol Division championship.

Although six of the panel mmbers did not participate in this phase of the voting, announced today, the 42 votes cast were divided among six candidates.

Humphrey was the winner with 17 and Cole a close second with 14.

Jamie Rivers, St. Louis middle linebacker who was injured late in the season, was third with six votes. Jim Smith, the Washington defensive back who suffered a broken neck in the last game with Detroit, drew three ballots.

Bob Atkins, St. Louis corner back, and Bill Belk, San Francisco defensive end, each received one vote.

Humphrey played both end and tackle in college at Tennessee State.

Mrs. Whitney Stone's Shuvee, a 2-year-old filly, was named after her sire and dam, Nashua and Levee.

'Silent Night, Holy Night' Is 150 Years Old

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — This Christmas "Silent Night, Holy Night" is 150 years old.

Saturday at the tiny Austrian village of Oberndorf, Chancellor Josef Klaus will place a wreath in the chapel which replaced the church where the song was first heard in 1818.

Singing groups from seven nations will pay tribute to the song at a ceremony Sunday in te Salzburg Grosses Festspielhaus, the great festival hall.

The singers include the St. John's University men's choir from Collegeville, Minn., the Luxembourg Madrigal Choir and the West German singing group of Bad Aigen.

Teacher Franz Gruber wrote the music and priest Josef Mohr the words for the Christmas song.

There is no record that it was an immediate success before a small audience of peasants and rivermen. Legend has it that Mohr's clerical superiors in fact barred it.

3 Power Firms Complete Tieup

A new major electric power interconnection between West Virginia and areas to the west has been completed with the energizing of a 345,000-volt transmission line joining Monongahela Power Co. facilities with those of Ohio Edison and Ohio Power.

The power line is 30.2 miles long — starting at Edison's Sammis Station at Stratton, extending south to Toronto, crossing the Ohio River there and continuing south to Monongahela's Wylie Ridge Substation near Weirton. It then continues south to the Tidd Station of Ohio Power near Brilliant.

A vital link in the 345,000-volt line is the Wylie Ridge Substation. It is the hub of transmission facilities in the Panhandle area and is the main source of back-up power to this region.

$500,000 Received For Renovation Plan

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati came $500,000 closer Wednesday to financing a $3 million renovation program on Music Hall, where the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra plays.

The city disclosed it had received a $500,000 donation from the Ralph S. Corbett Foundation, representing the largest gift made for the project.

U.S. Put Face To Face With Touchy Latin Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The assumption of dictatorial powers by the military-backed regime of Brazilian President Arthur Da Costa e Silva has put the United States face to face with one of its touchiest Latin American problems in recent years.

Although Brazil's governments in recent years have been military-oriented, Washington felt that they were sufficiently progressive to deserve the nearly $1.4 billion in loans and grants provided by the United States since 1961.

But last week's power grab, the result of military displeasure over the results of a Brazilian congressional vote, is considered by the United States as more serious than previous Brazilian government turnovers.

Besides the concern over the move to the right, U.S. officials say they are also disturbed because the Brazilian generals acted with no apparent thought about relations with Washington.

One part of the dilemma now facing U.S. officials is that they don't want to take any action that would rebound by a severe anti-American reaction in Brazil.

Such American action could result in the withdrawal or exclusion of Brazil from the Alliance for Progress. Without Brazil, the largest and most populous country in Latin America, the Alliance would virtually cease to exist as an important force for social progress.

But these officials say that in the long run the United States has little choice but to disapprove of a dictaorialt regime whose principles are compleely opposed to those set forth in the Alliance for Progress charter.

"You can't expect to exclude Brazil from any program for Latin America and expect the program to have any universality," one american official said.

There are four options open to the U.S. in its dealing with Brazil as officials here see it:

—Devise a way to maintain economic assistance programs with Brazil without giving the impression of supporting the government.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Dec. 20, the 355th day of 1968. There are 11 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1790, an English expert in textile machinery, Samuel Slater, began operating the first successful cotton mill in America at Pawtucket, R.I.

In 1803, a ceremony in New Orleans symbolized the official transfer of the Louisiana purchase from France to the United States.

In 1860, South Carolina became the first state to secede from the Union.

In 1922, 14 republics of Russia combined in convention at Moscow as the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Ten years ago—Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine was under charges of contempt of Congress. He pleaded innocent.

Five years ago—Some 4,000 West Berliners made use of Communist passes and crossed the Berlin Wall into East Berlin for Christmas reunions with relatives not seen for two years.

One year ago—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro conceded that he was having differences with the Soviet Union.

Junior Editors Quiz on VOLCANOES

QUESTION: What makes a volcano erupt?

ANSWER: Deep within the earth lie masses of rock so hot as to be in the form of a fiery liquid called magma. Magma contains explosive gases which press upward. When there are cracks or openings in the earth's surface, molten magma pours up as a volcano and shoots out. Its cooling stage is known as lava, which piles up around the volcano and can build into a tall, cone-shaped mountain. Volcanoes can erupt from the sea floor (upper left). With tons of sea water above, the volcano can not shoot as high, but successive eruptions may pile a mountain form up to the surface. The top of this may appear as an atoll, or volcanic island. A great many of the Pacific Ocean islands have been formed in this way. Coral reefs will grow on the volcano crest, debris and wave action will make enough soil for palms to grow, and there will be a beautiful South Seas atoll, with an inner lagoon of quiet water, and natives singing and dancing on the beach.

Personalities In The News

LONDON (AP) — Lynda Bird Robb, on her way home from a visit with her Marine major husband in Thailand, is stopping in London for several days.

After her arrival Thursday, the U.S. Embassy said President Johnson's elder daughter would stay with friends. She came here from Istanbul where she spent a day sightseeing.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress May Britt, testifying that "I asked him to stay home but he never did," received an uncontested divorce from entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. Thursday.

The blond Swedish actress 31, and Davis, 43, a Negro, had ben married eight years. Their interracial marriage, in a Jewish ceremony after becoming converts to Judaism, rocked Hollywood. Frank Sinatra was the best man, and Peter Lawford an usher.

"There was no family life to speak of," Miss Britt told Judge Laurence J. Rittenband in Santa Monica Superior Court. She said Davis had made her "terribly upset."

They had a daughter, Tracey, 7, and two adopted sons, Mark, 8, and Jeff, 4. Under a property settlement, Miss Britt receives $3,000 a month in alimony and child support.

Miss Britt, a statuesque beauty, starred in several Hollywood films but virtually gave up her career after marrying Davis. The couple reported taunts of racial bigotry and hate mail from the day they announced they would marry, but by 1965 May said she felt "people are getting used to us now." However, with Davis back on a rigorous work schedule, problems developed between them.

Davis said once: "Even though May joins me on the road during longer engagements, we are not together nearly enough." She testified at the divorce hearing: "It's very difficult to have three children and the father never around."

When Teresa Page, 24, opened a refrigerator-sized package, she found her mother, Mrs. Emma Minett, inside. The two hadn't seen each other for almost a year.

The daughter has been in America for about a year, and journyed back to England last March when her father died. Mrs. Minett lives in Solihull, Warwickshire.
